

WHERE'S THE MONEY? WINDOW SAYS IT'S NOT IN THE TREASURY.

The Available Cash Growing Beautifully Less and the Money Market Needs Relief--The Secretary Confronting the Bankers.

New York, Sept. 13.--Secretary Windom arrived at the sub-treasury at 11:30 today, and notices were at once sent out to a number of banks to attend to one of the first business views with him.

Among the first to attend were James B. Colgate, President of Knox of the Republic; President Con of the American Exchange National Bank; President Perkins of the Importers and Traders' bank; President Simmons of the Fourth National; Isaac Selligman and others equally prominent.

New York, Sept. 13.--Secretary of the Treasury Windom made a statement tonight for publication in relation to the condition of the government's finances. The secretary says: "Comparisons have recently been made of the surplus as it is now reported in the treasury with the amount reported a year ago, from which the erroneous conclusion is drawn that the present administration has pursued a policy tending towards a contraction."

In this connection the statement shows the fallaciousness of this belief. The amount of net cash, fractional silver and national bank redemption fund in the treasury on the first of September, 1889, was about 14,000,000 dollars, and on the same time reported September 10, 1890, was 99,509,220 dollars, which demonstrates the fact that over 14,000,000 dollars more money have been paid out since September 10, 1889.

There is, therefore, not a dollar in the treasury surplus which is available for the payment of customs duties or internal revenue taxes. He says there is not a dollar in the treasury surplus which is available for the payment of the current during the last year. The 55,000,000 dollars above referred to are for several years, and this amount is one time during the last year.

The above statement is not a theoretical exposition of the money market, but it is an actual fact that there was in circulation on the first day of September 1889, 14,000,000 dollars, and that on September 1, 1890, there was 99,509,220 dollars.

A DEPENDENT OF VIOLENCE.

THE VICTIM THE CHIEF OF THE LAKE SHORE FORCE.

He Was a Michigan Man and Lost His Life in a Saloon Fight--The Murderer Arrested--Claims He Acted in Self-Defense.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.--D. M. Avery, a detective for the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad was the victim of what seems to be an unprovoked murder early this morning. His slayer was Louis Dyckman, who is under arrest.

Who, he meek and lowly or high and rich, can afford to miss the great Strauss orchestra concert of September 24 and still do justice to their taste for good music? Edward Strauss comes from representing a race of artists whom nobody can help but admire.

During the strike on the road in 1889 Avery did good work for which he was recognized in the shape of an advancement to the position of assistant chief of detectives, and two years later, Chief W. H. McIntosh being assigned to the office.

THE DAY OF THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION: I heard the prayer of Rev. Dr. Fluhrer greatly praised. Many said it was the best prayer they ever heard of in a public religious service.

POLITICS AND RELIGION: Politics and religion are two subjects which all others who are men should be reasonable, but it is a fact that as to these they are always meanly unjust towards each other.

EAR GROUND LITIGATION: Mr. Uhl makes the opening argument for the directors. Judge Grove's court was engaged for the hearing of the motion to set aside the verdict in the case of the directors.

THE BISHOP-McQUEEN CASE: The legal sale of liquor at the season or restaurant on Monroe street where Sheriff Bishop received a pounding from John McQueen...

THE BISHOP-McQUEEN CASE (continued): Bishop, McQueen, Maynard and all the rest, whether office holders, or non-officers, or both, should be put on the stand and made to tell the shameful story of that debacle.

PUBLIC OPINION: "Do you see that gown on that lady going there?" asked a friend as he pointed to a fine figure which was undulating among the crowd on Monroe street yesterday afternoon.

THE BISHOP-McQUEEN CASE (continued): Let the full light of a legal investigation in the trial of Douglas fall upon this affray and the people will judge between McQueen and Bishop. There is no party politics in this affair; it has a personal bearing and it reaches not only to Bishop and McQueen but others who were in the company.

POLICE COURT MATTERS

An Old and Extensive Case Ended by Dismissal.
Charles Duncan, Albert Mallick and Dan Rowland, three very drunk men who were gathered in the street on the 12th yesterday morning, were sent to the jail for 12 days, in default of the usual fine of $2 and costs.

The case of the people vs. John Wood, for assault and battery with intent to do great bodily harm, was tried in the police court yesterday morning. The case was commenced July 3, and his case adjourned 13 times. A stenographer was given copies of closely written typewritten copy, which shows that a great expense was heaped upon a man who with little benefit to the public, and his suit were ended on a warrant yesterday for the arrest of Thomas Whitcomb who is charged with using obscene language to Mary Haisna.

Geo. Fowler was on trial yesterday for a charge of being disorderly on August 18. The testimony showed that there had been a difference between the defendant and John N. Abbott as to this particular morning Fowler went to the candy stand on Waterloo street, and in the use of indecent language and threatened to do personal violence to the vendor. The jury returned a verdict of guilty on the testimony and after being out five minutes brought in a verdict of guilty. Sentence was deferred until Monday morning.

CONFLICTING VIEWS.

Judge Burlingame Overrules Police Judge Holmes.
The case of Archie McIntosh was dismissed in the Superior court yesterday on motion of the city attorney. McIntosh was arrested on the charge of using indecent and profane language, and as it did not appear that McIntosh was arrested on the ruling in the Jennette case. The rule heretofore followed has been laid down by Police Judge Holmes, who decided that the police need not pollute the records by specifying the words complained of. Judge Burlingame, however, has decided that a witness should not be allowed to state a conclusion of law and fact, but that the court should decide whether it was such as is prohibited by the statute.

South End Improvements.

The stockholders of the South Grand Rapids Street Railway company have elected the following board of directors: W. J. Moon, E. T. Hills and A. V. Mann of Muskegon and Charles Fox, P. T. Cirk and J. C. McKee of Grand Rapids. The officers elected are: President, Charles Fox; vice president, P. T. Cirk; secretary and treasurer, P. T. Cirk. It is the intention of the company to at once build a road connecting with the street railway systems of this city to the east of the village of Grand Rapids and will have the road completed and in running order within thirty days. The recently organized company for improvement company has changed its name to that of the South Grand Rapids Improvement company. The board of more easily identifying the property recently held, the following officers were elected: President, Charles Fox; vice president, P. T. Cirk; secretary, W. H. Baiguel, the trustees are Charles Fox, P. T. Cirk, J. C. McKee, E. T. Baiguel and A. V. Van Dugteren.

May Offer to Compromise.

While the managers of the Western Union Telegraph company deny the right of the city to exclude it from any streets they are willing to make an offer to submit to reasonable regulations about the position of its poles. Undoubtedly they will present a communication to the council tomorrow evening, in which they will say that they will remove the poles from the city streets, and place them on the right of way, and that they will be glad to accept of another week. The property owners who are laying new walks have much to say yet before they are done. The Street Railway company are rushing the work of relaying their tracks, and are looking to be done in less than the required grade, but this is looked after by the city engineer. The city is looking about four inches from the center of the street to the curb and the manner of laying the new walks looks at first glance to be quite high.

Military Opening.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 18, 19 and 20, occurs the Fall Opening of Millinery at Adams & Co., 90 Monroe street. THE WHEELMAN.

Grand Rapids is nothing if not metropolitan; so think the bicyclists, at least. The Grand Rapids Bicycle club is at last quartered in a commodious house. They are sure it is not their own but they could not have built one better suited for the purpose. It is located at 233 Ottawa street. The house stands well back from the street and it surrounds it with a lawn. The inside is divided as follows: First floor, billiard room, kitchen and bath room; second floor, parlor, reading room, smoking room, library and dining room. The rooms are all handsomely furnished and the wood work is finished in antique oak. All wheelmen desiring to secure the benefits of this club house should send in their application before the 15th inst. All entrance fees will be raised on that date.

INFORMATION OF PRACTICAL VALUE TO PROGRESSIVE AGRICULTURISTS.

How and When to Harvest Potatoes. Crop—When to Store and Where to Store the Tubers—Methods Practiced by a Successful Old Cultivator.

The annual questions are now being asked: "At just what stage should potatoes be dug?" "If dug early, will they be better?" "How shall we dig by hand or by machinery?" "How and where should we store for long keeping?"

Mr. Terry begins to dig as soon as the potatoes are ripe; earlier if there is a demand for them. When harvested and stored early he finds the potatoes stand over winter in the boxes or on the lead and get perfectly cool. Then he stores early in the morning. Up to within a year Mr. Terry cultivated, with many other farmers, that the four finest lots in the hands of an experienced man was the best digger.

Preserving Eggs for Market. An even temperature and protection from the air are the leading features in the preservation of eggs. The pores of the shell must be stopped for two reasons—to prevent evaporation and consequent drying up of the contents of the shell, and to prevent the entrance of the air, which in due course of time stops the pores the most popular and effective modes will be considered.

Lining is the most practical and effective method for preserving eggs in large quantities. This method consists in placing the eggs so soon as possible in a mixture of lime water to cover them. The eggs are then packed in a box with a quantity of lime water required for use or for sale, and they are carefully dipped out into open crates, washed and drained. Found a suitcase. A stranger in the room of a well known London restaurant, noted a packet of papers lying on the floor after two customers had left the room. On picking these up, he discovered that he had found himself in possession of $100 in 410 bank of England notes. The stranger diner who throws his money about in this fashion may consider himself more fortunate than he deserves to be if he learns from this intimation that his money is in the hands of the writer, who, on finding the money, counted in its presence with London and put it away till called for.—Windsor News.

THE JEWETS SWINDLED BY A WELL DRESSED CROOK.

Another check forging case came to light last night. This time Jewett Bros. are the victims. The check for $100 dollars and fifty cents. The scheme was worked very cleverly, when the store was full of customers, and from what could be learned it is evident this firm was the only victim. Just for the purpose of living in harmony with the western world, whose customs they are adopting. They do not do this from any profane conviction either in regard to religion, spirituality, but because it is the proper thing. Unitarianism is the form of Christianity that will make the transformation most easy; therefore, say the advanced thinkers of Japan, let us adopt Unitarianism as we adopt trousers and French millinery.
The Unitarians are to be congratulated on this accession of millions of converts to their faith, but how the rest of the Christian world, who have spent a thousand dollars for converting the heathen where the Unitarians have spent one, regard this kind of a change in religion?
Mr. Fukuawa, an eminent Japanese author, advises his countrymen to make the leap from Buddhism to Unitarian Christianity in these words:
Let us take it not because it is new, but because it is the most of the most highly civilized nations, and because it is the religion of the people with whom we desire to stand well.

It's an Old Trumper.

Wm. Washington, the socialist party to the recent house breaking at R. Bell's, corner Sheldon and Goodrich streets, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Jackson and Kennedy. Washington, a 30 year old fellow, having served five years at Jackson for a similar offense and has spent the most of his life in prison.

An Interesting Event.

Mrs. Wiegner returned from New York last Thursday and since then her entire corps of assistants have been busily employed in arranging her elegant apartments for the fall opening which will be held Tuesday and Wednesday. Since her last opening Mrs. Wiegner has secured the entire floor for her own use and the display will be on a more elaborate scale than ever before and the attending the opening will be enabled to examine the beautiful materials with a close and expert eye and to see the trimmings of elegant novelties in gowns and dresses which are being imported and will be viewed with great interest by all ladies who are anxious to be attired in the latest fashions.
The display will continue only two days, Wednesday and Thursday, and should remember to take the elevator at R. H. Seymour's, 145 Monroe street, new Kendall building.

Winning Golden Opinions.

The sweet music that is so often heard above the hum of traffic on Canal street is furnished from the well known music house of Julius A. Friedrich, the prince of Western Michigan music dealers. The popular Walter, Fischer and the elite music store at the corner of Canal and Estey organs gives the purchaser a good variety to select from. His house is a music paradise and you should drop in at 30 and 32 Canal.

Farmers' Organizations.

The farmers have been taking an inventory of their strength for the coming political campaign. There is no doubt that the financial distress which they have suffered in the past few years has driven them to this. There are many of them who are now in a position to do better. The legislation which will immediately follow in the next two or three years the farmers' influence will be powerful, in the state supreme. The greatest value of the legislation in which they will participate will probably consist in the political education they themselves obtain from it. This education is one of the sowed objects of the Farmers' Alliance. The National Farmers' organizations at present include a membership altogether of a little less than four millions, and their numbers are rapidly increasing. Many of them, however, admit both to membership and to personal wealth of 10 and 21, so that the actual number is two millions at this time. There are seven leading societies which, for political purposes, will act together as one.
The principal one of the seven is the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, headquarters at Washington, D. C. It was formed at St. Louis by a union of two other associations, and claims already a membership of two millions. The Alliance admits as members all the rural population, including such professions, doctors and school teachers as live and labor in the country. Kindred to this is the National Colored Farmers' Alliance and Co-operative Union, number of members throughout the continent is 1,000,000. This is colored association that is now taking a hand in South Carolina politics. The colored Alliance has its headquarters at Houston, Tex.
The ones forming the National Grange or the Patrons of Husbandry, the ancient and honorable grandeur of which, which is still in existence and lively.
The National Farmers' league is a union which is entirely political in its aims. Other organizations are The Farmers' Mutual Benefit association, headquarters Mt. Vernon, Ill.; Patrons of Industry, centering at Fort Huron, Mich.; and the Northwestern Alliance, strong in the Northwestern states.
It is to be noted that the recent farmers' movement sprang into activity first in the south and in Texas. All claim to be thoroughly handed together and declare they will subordinate all other preferences to the advancement of farmers' interests, pecuniary and otherwise. On the whole this is a remarkable uprising.

Some time ago a Vienna butcher was accused of murdering his wife, and the case being brought to trial was condemned. Now a new trial has been granted, as indisputable evidence has been discovered that during the former trial two witnesses had been tampered with. A true case of hanging and jump.

Let us take it not because it is new, but because it is the most of the most highly civilized nations, and because it is the religion of the people with whom we desire to stand well.

It's an Old Trumper.

Wm. Washington, the socialist party to the recent house breaking at R. Bell's, corner Sheldon and Goodrich streets, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Jackson and Kennedy. Washington, a 30 year old fellow, having served five years at Jackson for a similar offense and has spent the most of his life in prison.

An Interesting Event.

Mrs. Wiegner returned from New York last Thursday and since then her entire corps of assistants have been busily employed in arranging her elegant apartments for the fall opening which will be held Tuesday and Wednesday. Since her last opening Mrs. Wiegner has secured the entire floor for her own use and the display will be on a more elaborate scale than ever before and the attending the opening will be enabled to examine the beautiful materials with a close and expert eye and to see the trimmings of elegant novelties in gowns and dresses which are being imported and will be viewed with great interest by all ladies who are anxious to be attired in the latest fashions.
The display will continue only two days, Wednesday and Thursday, and should remember to take the elevator at R. H. Seymour's, 145 Monroe street, new Kendall building.

Winning Golden Opinions.

The sweet music that is so often heard above the hum of traffic on Canal street is furnished from the well known music house of Julius A. Friedrich, the prince of Western Michigan music dealers. The popular Walter, Fischer and the elite music store at the corner of Canal and Estey organs gives the purchaser a good variety to select from. His house is a music paradise and you should drop in at 30 and 32 Canal.

Farmers' Organizations.

The farmers have been taking an inventory of their strength for the coming political campaign. There is no doubt that the financial distress which they have suffered in the past few years has driven them to this. There are many of them who are now in a position to do better. The legislation which will immediately follow in the next two or three years the farmers' influence will be powerful, in the state supreme. The greatest value of the legislation in which they will participate will probably consist in the political education they themselves obtain from it. This education is one of the sowed objects of the Farmers' Alliance. The National Farmers' organizations at present include a membership altogether of a little less than four millions, and their numbers are rapidly increasing. Many of them, however, admit both to membership and to personal wealth of 10 and 21, so that the actual number is two millions at this time. There are seven leading societies which, for political purposes, will act together as one.
The principal one of the seven is the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, headquarters at Washington, D. C. It was formed at St. Louis by a union of two other associations, and claims already a membership of two millions. The Alliance admits as members all the rural population, including such professions, doctors and school teachers as live and labor in the country. Kindred to this is the National Colored Farmers' Alliance and Co-operative Union, number of members throughout the continent is 1,000,000. This is colored association that is now taking a hand in South Carolina politics. The colored Alliance has its headquarters at Houston, Tex.
The ones forming the National Grange or the Patrons of Husbandry, the ancient and honorable grandeur of which, which is still in existence and lively.
The National Farmers' league is a union which is entirely political in its aims. Other organizations are The Farmers' Mutual Benefit association, headquarters Mt. Vernon, Ill.; Patrons of Industry, centering at Fort Huron, Mich.; and the Northwestern Alliance, strong in the Northwestern states.
It is to be noted that the recent farmers' movement sprang into activity first in the south and in Texas. All claim to be thoroughly handed together and declare they will subordinate all other preferences to the advancement of farmers' interests, pecuniary and otherwise. On the whole this is a remarkable uprising.

Some time ago a Vienna butcher was accused of murdering his wife, and the case being brought to trial was condemned. Now a new trial has been granted, as indisputable evidence has been discovered that during the former trial two witnesses had been tampered with. A true case of hanging and jump.

Japanese Unitarians.

"Buddhism in its highest state and Unitarianism are just the same," says Mr. Komuro Katsunori, a member of the Unitarians prayer council. Whether this is a compliment to Buddhism or Unitarianism we leave the reader to decide. But it shows how easily and gratefully the sensible Japanese religionists upon him when it is mentioned that many of the most cultured of the Japanese, both in official and private life, actually profess to "Bop," so to speak, over from Buddhism to Unitarianism, just for the purpose of living in harmony with the western world, whose customs they are adopting. They do not do this from any profane conviction either in regard to religion, spirituality, but because it is the proper thing. Unitarianism is the form of Christianity that will make the transformation most easy; therefore, say the advanced thinkers of Japan, let us adopt Unitarianism as we adopt trousers and French millinery.
The Unitarians are to be congratulated on this accession of millions of converts to their faith, but how the rest of the Christian world, who have spent a thousand dollars for converting the heathen where the Unitarians have spent one, regard this kind of a change in religion?
Mr. Fukuawa, an eminent Japanese author, advises his countrymen to make the leap from Buddhism to Unitarian Christianity in these words:
Let us take it not because it is new, but because it is the most of the most highly civilized nations, and because it is the religion of the people with whom we desire to stand well.
