THE NEWAYGO REUNION.

A Grand Gathering of Old Soldiers and Their Friends.

NEWAYGO, Sept. 18.—(Correspondent.)—Just across the Muskegon river on the north, on a high elevation, is what is known as Simon's grove. It is a beautiful grove of second-growth oaks, and especially adapted for the accommodation of large throngs.

The grand cavalcade of the veterans and comrades with their friends came journeying in from all directions. The train from Grand Rapids which reaches here at 9 o'clock was also there today that 5,000 people were in attendance.

Mr. Washburn Gardner of Albion was the speaker. He followed by other distinguished gentlemen. Then comes the street parade by "Sherman's Bummers" dressed in camp life.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Jay Gould has succeeded in forming his Ideal Railroad Association. It includes all lines south of Kansas City and west of the Missouri river.

Forfeited the McKinley Bill.—Belfast is making an effort to endeavor to place as much linen as possible in the United States before the McKinley bill becomes a law.

THE NEW ELECTION LAW.

A CASE TO TEST IT BEING MADE UP IN DETROIT.

Chairman Campau Says the Democrats Want It Sustained.—Don M. Dickinson Reinstated as Counsel.

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—D. M. Campau is arranging to meet the onerous duties of his new position as chairman of the Democratic state central committee. He has secured the services of Alfred J. Murphy as private secretary and is arranging as far as possible at this stage of the proceedings for the work that is before him.

All we want is an honest expression of opinion. At times the law is a new election law which was enacted by a Republican legislature and to which we now understand the Democratic and Republican politicians of the state are opposed.

Republican in caucus.—Walker Proposes to Make Himself Vote or Pay a Fine.—WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The House adjourned shortly after 3 o'clock and the caucus was held in the Senate chamber for an hour.

Accused by Gobble.—He has succeeded in forming his Ideal Railroad Association. It includes all lines south of Kansas City and west of the Missouri river.

DEMAN'S FATE.

It is in the Hands of the Jury With Prospects of a Disagreement.

The DeMann case was given to the jury at 6 o'clock last evening. The evidence for the defense was all introduced in the forenoon and the afternoon was taken up with the argument.

There is a perceptible change in the conduct of young Demann. At first he was timid, nervous and full of fear, but now he is more confident and self-possessed.

THE VOLUNTEER REGIMENT THAT MARCHED WITH SHERMAN TO THE SEA.—A Short History of the Sixth Michigan Cavalry.

The Only Volunteer Regiment That MARCHED WITH SHERMAN TO THE SEA.—A Short History of the Sixth Michigan Cavalry.

The twenty-fifth annual reunion of the Sixth Michigan Cavalry will be long remembered by those who were fortunate enough to attend. The sun was setting pretty high yesterday before any of the yellow badges were noticeable on the streets, but toward noon the veterans began to bestir themselves, and in two and three's toward the way toward the soldiers' home.

After a slight repast. The reporter's story telling and inspection of some of the business meetings was called for by the president, Geo. H. Turner of Coldwater. The report was then read by the secretary, W. A. Hyde of Coldwater, who announced the program of business for the election of officers for the ensuing year and the choosing of the next place to hold the reunion.

After the dishes were cleared away President Turner said that he had the pleasure of introducing the members of the Sixth Michigan Cavalry, a "real live general." Geo. Pierce responded in a brief address to the members of the Sixth Michigan Cavalry.

Proceedings of the Meeting of the Commissioners.—At the meeting of the board of fire and police commissioners held yesterday afternoon the following resolutions were adopted.

Mrs. Myers, an old lady of Bartlett street, if her story be true, has expressed to feel the indignation she was exposed to a reporter yesterday. Foundmaster Henry had a warrant, as supposed, for Mrs. Myers' arrest for a violation of the dog ordinance.

WILL PLEAD GUILTY.

And Then Ask the Council to Amend the City Charter.

Cornelius DeRuyter was arrested Wednesday for riding his bicycle on the State street sidewalk. His friends announced a decision to first advise him to make a test case of the matter and carry it to the higher courts, but after talking it over it was decided to recognize the merits of the ordinance and DeRuyter upon his arraignment this morning will plead guilty and pay his fine.

The bicyclists will ask the council to amend the city charter so that it will permit them to ride on their wheels on the sidewalks of at least one street that is not a main thoroughfare. A representative of the Monrovia Press inquired of the city engineer whether the railroad was the case, and was informed that there had been some talk of the station on the line above this and past the point mentioned, but no papers had been passed. He did not know anything about the intention of the company.

ROBERT R. HAMILTON'S DEATH.

The sad and timely ending of the life of Robert Hamilton may be at least put to a moral.

He was of illustrious descent, for an American, because he came from a hero of the revolution and could justly claim to be of the American aristocracy, so far as such a claim can be based on blood.

He could have well aspired to the presidency had he built his record in nobility and purity. But he gave way to his passions, allied himself to a low, vicious woman, became involved in her crimes, and was overwhelmed with shame and grief.

No, the woman, did not do it. He did it. His pride of ancestry and appreciation of his many splendid advantages allowed him to inspire him with nobility, manly and noble purposes, instead he used his wealth to indulge in debauchery.

His fate can only serve as a warning to other young men born to wealth and raised with care and culture to avoid his shameful course, and not prostitute their talents to the service of a low and vicious and self-debauched. A life of luxury and ease is degrading to vigorous manhood.

THE CHARTER COMMITTEE.

The adoption of a new city charter is a matter in which every citizen has a direct and personal interest.

In view of these facts, the council committee and the board of trade in attempting to do their work in secret, have failed miserably.

The Democrat of yesterday morning approves Mr. Gilbert's position by saying he has been held by the democracy for the past 15 years.

On the same page with this endorsement of Mr. Gilbert the Democrat prints the fact that he is not a Democrat.

DEMOCRATIC GROUND.

Mr. Gilbert says the National banks will die a natural death and will be succeeded by state banks with all the uncertainties likely to pertain thereto.

We demand that henceforth the issuing of all circulating medium be made under acts of congress through the national treasury in order to give effect to the business wants of the country.

GARDNER AND REID.

Rev. Washington Gardner has a right to be a Republican. So has Rev. Reid. It is the duty of the people to elect a politician Reid has the advantage of Gardner in that he is not an office seeker.

He has another advantage, however, that is a very considerable one, he can talk his politics from the pulpit as gospel truth, but Gardner cannot.

Reid could have his campaign rallies in the church Sunday night, as well as in the school-house Saturday night, and could do anything inconsistent with his ministerial duties, since temperance has always been considered a part of Methodist religion; to be preached for and prayed for by Y. M. C. E. part of a Christian's walk and conversation.

Mr. BLAINE was not happy in commending reciprocity to protectionists by citing the fact that every free trader in the senate voted against it.

That business circular of Foster, Stevens & Co. is making a big stir in Grand Rapids. For one thing, it gives it a critical notice of one of our firms.

MONEY IN TOBACCO.

The McKinley Bill will Make Fortunes for the Importers. Detroit Evening News: The uncertainty of tariff legislation, which has had the effect of crowding the bonded warehouses at New York and other Atlantic ports, has had a like effect in this city in the line of trade which represents the bulk of imports coming through the Detroit custom house.

The Sparta Failure. Woodin & VanWinkle Assignment to Charles H. Loomis. The firm of Woodin & VanWinkle, general dealers in Sparta, Mich., assigned papers yesterday to Charles H. Loomis.

The Calceolonia Fair. The Calceolonia fair, which yesterday with a large attendance and very creditable exhibits, each Department being well filled.

A "Motor-Car" Plant.

The old gas company, spurred on doubtless by the prospects of the early completion of the Fuel Gas company's plants, have arranged to put in a "motor-car" plant which will contain their present factory.

POWDERLY-BARRY.

One Who is Familiar with the Facts Points Out Their Errors. The entirely unnecessary and uncalled for vituperative tongue lashing that has characterized the attack on Barry and T. V. Powderly is being met by a rejoinder from the latter.

Tom Barry, if what you say now is true it is not in itself, then on the very instant, was the time for you to have denounced to the world a man who would be guilty of such a piece of duplicity.

Powderly, a word with you. You say Barry was expelled from the order for financial crookedness; that his price is a drink of whisky.

At the time of the execution of Kemmer for electricity there was no discussion as to whether his death had been instantaneous, signs of life having been observed after the first current was passed through his body.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN.

The Poor Preachers' Dilemma. Fr. MONTAGUE BROWN. The general interest which the cases of Rev. Washington Gardner and Rev. J. W. Reid have excited is a fresh illustration of the peculiarly trying situation...

The downfall of the political power of the church, and the separation of the church and state, thus making the priests' living depend upon their ability to please a certain number of people known as his parish, has rendered the preacher's calling one of the most uncertain and trying among the learned professions.

The steady growth of the Prohibition party in this country has greatly added to the preacher's perplexity. In nearly every parish there are more or less persons, and especially women, who are ardent believers in prohibition.

Yet in the same congregation are ardent Democrats and equally ardent Republicans who realize that this cloud covering the entire Prohibition party is now so small that it will not cover the entire political skin...

It was plain to be seen by the applause given Governor St. John at the Prohibition mass meeting that Mr. Wood is no longer the idol of the Methodist church.
