

THE REPUBLICAN'S ANSWER TO PERLOO

MORE AND MORE OF THE DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

There should be no dispute about a name in the new House of Representatives and National-Senator May Have Been Detected.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The magnitude of the cyclone is so great that the people here have ceased to express surprise or amazement. They simply laugh at the Republicans make all sorts of jokes at their own discomfiture.

It does not seem to be a fact that the Republicans are not to be enough to call for the year and says without change of rules. The Republicans have ceased to estimate their chances in the Democratic contest.

Republicans of real influence and standing are not trying longer to explain the defeat. Most of the high officials accessible to be seen at all.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1890.
McKINLEY AND REED.
McKinley and Reed are in the city. We have no tears for Reed, he is more of a bully than a gentleman or statesman.
But McKinley is entirely a different type of man. He is earnest and he is not a going party, but we believe him to be able and respectable with good impulses.
Although of a political school of an ancient color he is an earnest although a mistaken man.
We have no expectation that time will vindicate the wisdom of the law that bears his name. It is rather our expectation that the law will grow less acceptable. It is true there is now no surplus revenue and it can be demonstrated that the government needs all the taxes the McKinley act can bring, but it will be stronger than ever as time advances that the taxes are being drawn from the people to do no good for them.
We venture the prediction that higher prices will be found in every store whether kept by a Republican or Democrat. Nothing more will be done by merchants for political effect and they will be found selling goods for less than they can bid them unless they are in such straightened circumstances they must make a sacrifice for cash.
The enormous burthen of this government must be laid upon the shoulders of each ones property. The pension list is growing so rapidly that it is making the nation realize its "war debt" is not paid, nor disappearing so fast as was hoped, as the bonded debt melted away. It is sure that a revision of the tax must be made in the interest of the laboring classes, both in the state and nation, and that revision will not necessarily embrace that general feature of the McKinley bill that lifts the taxes from the consumers of high priced goods and puts them more heavily than ever on the consumers of cheap goods.
The purchasers of silk velvet can pay higher prices than those who must be content with cotton goods. The farmers and mechanics who must buy trace chains and anvils cannot pay as heavy taxes on these articles as the great railway corporations and ship owners who buy car wheels, car axles, anchors and cables.
The McKinley bill discriminates against the poor and for the rich, and that is why it was disapproved last Tuesday, and the way it will never be more acceptable than now, and we will be that McKinley will find his public life is ended.
The bill that bears his name has put him under and will keep him in some respects this is the way of McKinley. He is a man of brain and clean character. But he forgot his master, the people, to serve. Mammon and Mammon has not been able to rescue him from the just indignation of the people he betrayed.

CUMULATIVE VOTING.
The cumulative voting system for Detroit, Grand Rapids and Saginaw was a mere party trick unworthy of honorable partisanship and we are sure the people will smile to see it ignored or overturned. It was a mean gimmick in a somewhat different form from the form of legislation that robs the majority of its right is treason to the government. The men who enact laws intended to trick the majority out of its full voice are no less traitors than the men who take up arms to sustain ordinances of oppression.
Cumulative voting applied to the whole state would be a wise measure. It has worked splendidly in Illinois. Such a law is intended to secure the majority for the minority without robbery of the majority. We should be glad to see the Illinois law enacted in Michigan. But a law that is enacted for a few cities in such terms that it serves for the minority equal representation with the majority is an outrage on popular sovereignty.
The legislature this winter should fairly represent the state and we heartily suggest that the new assembly be adopted in Illinois be made a feature of that reappointment.

CONGRESSMAN CHILMAN.
The next congress will revise the tariff and make taxes lower. He believes there are enough western Republican senators who will vote for that measure, he will carry it through congress. But what about Harrison? The hand that signed the McKinley bill and gave away the pen it held as a sacred moment will never sign a repeal.
House coats and longing robes of the best variety at Gardiner & Baxter's.

DISHONESTY REMUED.

The defeat of Turner in this state and the defeat of Quay's man in Pennsylvania and the overwhelming victory of the Democrats in Indiana are emphatic rebukes of corrupt men far more than anything else.
Such dishonest men as Quay, Dudley and Turner, must get out of public life. They are obnoxious to an honest people. Their pretensions have been scorned by men of all parties.
This election is a solemn warning to all parties that they must put honest men in the place of their organizations, or the people will refuse their support.
Forn will be one of the leading members of the city and suburbs, and no doubt will receive an important chairmanship. Whitig and Chipman both have the experience and ability to put them among leading Democrats. If Forns is elected, he will immediately resign, and doubt will receive an important chairmanship. Whitig and Chipman both have the experience and ability to put them among leading Democrats. If Forns is elected, he will immediately resign, and doubt will receive an important chairmanship. Whitig and Chipman both have the experience and ability to put them among leading Democrats.

BLANK WILL HAVE TO BE PUT IN CHARGE OF REED AND OF THE PERCH.
But will Blaine come forward or himself or will be bringing with him the little man who sits in Jacksons place.
This election demonstrates that the people are not in party strings as tight as they used to be. This is something to rejoice over. The people should rule, not party.
The Telegram-Herald warns its party to "stick out for 1900." It should not lose its nerve but keep a stiff upper lip, it may be happy yet.
The booth has made the chairman of the state central committee unattractive to millionaires. McMillan can be excused.

IS IT VERY LIKELY THAT THE PLACES THAT NOW KNOW SENATORS INGALLS AND SPONER MAY SOON NEVER KNOW THEM AGAIN.
JAS. G. BLAINE is today more than ever the first man in the hearts of the Republicans.
The people of Michigan are not inmates of a blind asylum.
The question now arises if Mr. Adair elects Judge.

Bought the Sparta Sentinel.

E. T. Harrison, of this city, has purchased the Sparta Sentinel from Rev. J. W. Hallack, and will take possession next week. The paper is a bright young man, a practical printer, and he promises to give the hustling village of Sparta a livelier and better paper than it has ever had. He will change the form and make-up of the paper, will not take a hand in politics, but will give particular attention to local news and matters of interest to Sparta.

No one doubts that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy really cures Catarrh, whether the disease be recent or of long standing, because the makers of it clutch their faith in it with a $500 guarantee, which is no mere newspaper guarantee, but an "on call" in a moment. That moment was when you prove that it makes can't cure you. The reason for their faith is this: Dr. Sage's remedy has proved itself the right cure for ninety-nine out of one hundred cases of Catarrh in the Head, and the World's Dispensary Medical Association can afford to take the risk of you being the one hundredth.
The only question is—are you willing to make the test, if the makers are willing to take the risk? If so, the rest is easy. You pay your druggist 50 cents and you get a bottle. If your waiting the $500 you'll get something better—a cure!

Michael Angelone being criticized for appearing in politics, but will give particular attention to local news and matters of interest to Sparta.

VALLEY CITY ICE & COAL CO. 25 MONROE ST. THIS is to certify that I was afflicted with a severe case of Chronic Diarrhea and was soon cured by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The best physicians failed to cure me. I tried different kinds of medicine without receiving any benefit. It then occurred to me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I then bought a bottle and after taking three bottles, which I used in the morning and evening, and had to use the time thirty-six chronic colic and diarrhea were cured and I was restored to my former health. than at any similar establishment. For the season now opening he shows a fine line of office styles and residence coats, and suits, and is well stocked with all that come and go for themselves.

A Property Owner.

A veteran Canal street business man is John M. Hughes, who has been in the street under his 20 years, although his whitened locks tell the story of his age. He came to Grand Rapids in 1854 and engaged in the wholesale and retail grocery business with David Miles, who here the Fuller block now stands. At the end of six years, the firm dissolved, and Mr. Hughes carried on a business in the old Squires block, after which he went into the milling business with John W. Squires, continuing it for five years. In 1872 he built the hand-made Criswell block, at the corner of Second and Grand streets, where he is now located. He is well known as a property owner, and has been in the insurance business now for 14 years, and the agencies under his control are an immense business.

His Path in the Streets.

Can writing of the business success of John M. Hughes, it would be incomplete without a sketch of the path he has followed in his life.

When he first made known his intention of opening a photographic gallery, he was told that he would make a mistake; that he was not a photographer.
