SUNDAY, JUNE 7, 1891.

THE STRIKE IS NOT ENDED. This strike is doing the city great harm. All classes are losing by it. We greatly regret it and would do anything in our power to have it settled on the basis of recognition of unionism.

We believe that it is the only basis upon which a settlement can be effected and we believe further that the men cannot settle on any other basis.

The business men of the city who are suffering should see that it is their first duty now to use every possible effort to aid the strikers to a settlement with the recognition of their right to form a union. There will be no prosperity for the city until the strike is settled. Every day it is prolonged is adding to the losses of all concerned; even the street railway is losing, and losing heavily, and we are confident it will continue to lose until it is ruined properly if it does not settle with these men.

Lines of carryalls may gradually fade away, the street railway employees' union may weaken in numbers, a few more of the union men may go back to the employ of the company, peace may prevail, but the street railway will not earn its expenses while it boycotts union labor, for union labor will retaliate quietly but stubbornly and effectively. The idea was well expressed in a union labor assembly a few nights since when a member declared the feeling towards the railway by saying: "We will walk it to death."

"Union labor in this city is not falling under the blows of the street railway, it is growing stronger, new unions are being formed and the old ones are renewing their youth. Labor recognizes this contest as a struggle with an enemy and it is bracing itself for a continued struggle. There is enmity and bitterness. They cannot be suppressed. Labor feels that it is being unjustly treated and resents the acts of those who are indifferent to its fight and manifest their disregard of the rights of workmen by patronizing the cars. These feelings must inevitably lead to boycotts and the separation of friends.

It will lead to the formation of entirely new lines in the approaching congressional election. It will distinctly array capital against labor, an array we deeply deplore. We have always counseled against strikes and boycotts. We have always held the cause of labor in a patriotic spirit with capital. We maintain we have had our full share in maintaining the good terms upon which capital and labor have gone together hand in hand in the past, and through which the city has grown prosperous, powerful, rich and famous, the world over, for the beauty of its products and the good will toward each other of all classes.

These good fruits are being destroyed by this senseless boycott of labor by men who have lately settled here, and who are of consequence because of the valuable franchises they have received from the people of the whole city, and it is outrageous that these gentlemen should show themselves so ungrateful for the favors they have received, and so disregardful of the best interests of all.

We beg the business men not to be deceived by appearances. The strikes in favor of the beauty of its products and the good will toward each other of all classes. The battle will go on under strict obedience to law, but no lawful weapon will be neglected. The ballot will be called in and will act with the boycott. The street railway will be walked to death by boycotted union labor and it will be voted to death in the council as far as possible. The election for city officers next spring will turn upon this contest, and all the friends the railway may secure in that election will be few and powerless. Gentlemen may cry peace but there is no peace; the war has only begun.

BRIBERY charges of small significance engage the trifling attention of the legislature. It is not of much consequence whether Mr. Munro paid Mr. Doyle $50 to help him get a certain bill through or not, but it is of consequence for the legislature to get a bill through forbidding the use of passes, and it is of consequence for the legislature to get through and adjourn. Every additional day costs the state $300, and the people have concluded that it don't pay to keep this legislature in session any longer.

THE NEXT THING. Now that order prevails and the cars are running practically what are the business men going to do about the demands of the strikers? Did they not say at the board of trade meeting that order should be restored first and then would be the time to adjust differences between the men and the railway. Are these men going to let the street railway ignore the just demands of American labor and say nothing? The strikers have listened to the business men in their demand for law and order, now let the business men listen to labor's demand for its just rights. If the business men do not now bring their guns to bear on the autocrat of the railway they will show that they never had any regard for the rights of the strikers and that their howl against disorder was another deceit under cover of which they were endeavoring to break down union labor.

The editors of the Eagle, Mr. O'Dell and others interested, will find some valuable pointers on public opinion in other than the editorial columns of the Morning Press this morning. The gentleman who fills the "People's column" may help them to realize what their opposition to organized labor may lead to, and the article signed "Balance," on the first page, ought to open their eyes and enable them to realize the magnitude of the wrong which they are attempting to inflict upon the public. The articles were written by gentlemen who are above Mr. O'Dell, or his cringing, cowardly, editorial allies, in intelligence, education, common sense and social standing.

MR. A. E. WINCHESTER of the Hudsonville Herald has taken charge of the Grand Haven Evening Tribune and Courier Journal. The Hudsonville Herald will be called the Suburban Herald with form changed to a folio and plates discarded. Mr. Winchester's idea is to make his papers better exponents of local affairs. The change is a good one. Ottawa county, and particularly Grand Haven, is entering upon some developments that promise splendidly for the future, and the increasing interests of that promising section demands more attention from the local press.

THE Belding Banner has entered its third year, giving evidence of the prosperity its good looks and ability deserve. Belding is one of the rising towns of Michigan, and the Banner that bears its name does it honor.

GRANT'S monument at Galena is surrounded with a statue of the General in heroic size. The hero poses with his right hand in his trousers pocket. This may be natural, but is not in good taste.

MR. CONROCK should extend his North Park railway to the city hall, and if he wants to do so the ordinance enabling him to do so should go through the council without a week's delay.

No Question of the Convention's Approval. Detroit Free Press. Says the Allegan Democrat at the head of its editorial column: For Member of Congress, FIFTH DISTRICT, EDWIN F. UHL, OF GRAND RAPIDS, Subject to the approval of the Democratic congressional convention. This is well enough. But it ought to be amended to read: "Subject to the approval of Edwin F. Uhl." For the approval of the congressional convention is assured. If there ever was any question of Edwin F. Uhl's nomination, if he were willing, it has disappeared in the last ten days.

FOR LADIES ONLY. Ladies read what is said of STEKETEE'S Positive Periodical Preparation. Never was known to fail. SHE SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS. Mr. G. G. STEKETEE, Proprietor Steketee's Periodical Preparation—Please find money order for one bottle of your PERIODICAL PREPARATION. I used one bottle. It has done me a great deal of good for troubles of which doctors could not cure me. I have been thankful ever since I used it, and I would like to recommend it to you. Please use this statement as you like and welcome. It ought to be loud enough to spread it world wide, for I was just about to say that I suffered seven long years and the price $1.00 per bottle is very cheap in comparison with what I suffered and the doctor's bills I paid. Yours thankfully, LUCY ANN HUXTABLE, South Franston, Cook Co., Ill. April 23, 1891. Ask your Druggist for STEKETEE'S POSITIVE PERIODICAL PREPARATION. Address, G. G. STEKETEE, Grand Rapids, Mich. $1.75 per bottle per express prepaid to any part of the United States.

Fame's Reward. A family was stricken down With Kidney evil of year. And all the doctors in the town And regions far and near Came just as quick as the wind, Each with his favorite pill, And there in const it sat a stoned, Agreed to turn a bill.

The undertaker was in gloom For all were going to die, He knew the doctors and could see He soon would run his lease; He paid his coffin in a row Before his office door, For his was glad to see them go 'So he could enter more.

But strange to say appeared a man Who foisted the doctors all, He was a good Samaritan And gave the sick a cure, He threw away the doctor's pills And from his pocket drew A Magnetic cure for all their ills That did their lives renew.

THE NEW PARTY.

Vast Significance of the Cincinnati Conference.

THE PEOPLE WILL SURELY RULE.

An Alliance of Farmers and City Tailors.

Practical Practice—A Terrible Combination Against the Plutocrats.

The description of the Inspiring Speeches Which Attended the Birth of the People's Party—The Platform and the Prospects.

The work of the Cincinnati conference is the subject still paramount before the country. Not since the days of the public man, more than thirty years ago, has there been an event of greater political importance in the new world.

That is the fact which carries hope to the masses and fear to the monopolistic corporations and money grabbers of the land.

"A congress of cranks," cried the organs of both the old parties when the delegates assembled. It would be a monkey and a patrol who would break up in a row, they declared.

"I have seen no attempt to describe the mighty scene in the convention hall which followed the reading of the report of the committee recommending the organization of a new party. No pen can do it justice, but it deserves a place in history.

"The convention was a scene of the most brilliant and stirring character. When the final test of sentiment came on Wednesday afternoon it was such a burst of unanimous enthusiasm as those who witnessed it had never seen. It signified the union of elements long separated in a natural amalgamation.

"The union of the elements long separated in a natural amalgamation. It signified the union of elements long separated in a natural amalgamation. It signified the union of elements long separated in a natural amalgamation.

"The Cincinnati conference has looked on in advance with some apprehension by Alliance leaders. It was feared that the enthusiasm of some of its promoters would overstep the bounds of discretion.

their attitude as a mighty power, almost ready to dominate the affairs of the nation. No longer will Alliance demands be ridiculed or ignored by any of the old parties.

The Cincinnati conference has also brought before the rank and file of the industrial army everywhere the fact that with this new ally they can accomplish many things which they have long been struggling for in vain.

That is the fact which carries hope to the masses and fear to the monopolistic corporations and money grabbers of the land. That is the fact which carries hope to the masses and fear to the monopolistic corporations and money grabbers of the land.

"With the general action of the Cincinnati conference the public mind has been so far from the political arena that it is hard to believe that the new party which it launched is intentionally left incomplete in many of its equipments.

THE UNIONS AND THE FAIR.

Why the Directors Will Not Recognize the Proposed Lay-off on the Work.

For months the labor unions of Chicago have been endeavoring to get the directors of the Columbian exposition to make an agreement which will insure the payment of union wages on the construction of the big show buildings.

In reference to incorporating in agreements with contractors a minimum scale of wages, your committee desires to state that it has given careful attention to the arguments.

The thumb-screw of parliamentarianism has been applied, and the result has been so far, with but here and there an exception, an abject surrender.

"In this effort they are aiding each other, for on its results their life or death depends. An effort is being made to drive every man of either party that will not wear the party collar.

CAPTURING A BRIDE.

One Way Revenge Have of Choosing a Wife When Many Men Want Her.

The oblong wedge, the most novel of hats, was worn, smiling in a low tone, and gesticulating in what they would have called a mild manner.

Suddenly a change was visible in the attitude of the Nippon. Their eyes protruded, their heads were thrown back, and their throats uttered a mighty shout.

When the Mania realized the ruse practiced upon them they never for a moment thought of attempting to escape.

The contest ended, and the bride being borne in triumph, the cause, both parties proceeded to pick up their weapons and smooth their feathers.

MUST RENOUNCE THE UNION

From C. H. Street Promulgated by the Street Railway Company to the Employees of the Laboring Classes.

The following is the contract which the Street Railway Company requires their employees to sign:

"The undersigned, having entered the employ of the Valley City Street and Cable Railway Company of Grand Rapids, a corporation, do hereby agree to and with said corporation, that, during the entire period of said employment, whatever the nature of the same, a day's work shall not be limited to ten hours, but shall consist of so much time each day as the necessities or convenience of the business of said corporation may require.

"And it is further agreed, that no sum shall be at any time due and owing to my labor under the contract of said corporation, next following the performance of such labor, and no demand for payment shall at any time operate to make any such sum due and payable prior to such pay day, as aforesaid.

"And it is still further agreed, that I will allow and hereby authorize to be taken out of my pay any amount for injury caused by my carelessness to the company's property, or to the property of any one else for which the company may be liable.
