

THE BRITISH CRIMES

JOHN ABBOTT AND CHARLES NORBON ARRESTED FOR CRIMINAL ASSAULT.

Both of the Victoria Little Girls under Twelve Years of Age—Made an Old Tender-Gates and Gaze About the Arrest—The Terrible Details.

John Abbott, who has been arrested a few months ago for criminal cohabitation with a young girl at North Park and was afterwards discharged, was again arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Gates and Gaze, while sleeping in his room at the Grand and Belmont streets. He was found lying in bed, and it is not doubt that he was in the habit of eating his meals at the home of Abbott, 215 Elm street, and sleeping in the rear of her rooms over Mike Wood's saloon on the same street.

Annie, the 11-year-old daughter of David Patterson, a "bus driver, is the victim. She had been in the habit of eating her meals at the home of Abbott, 215 Elm street, and sleeping in the rear of her rooms over Mike Wood's saloon on the same street.

The little girl did not make her condition known until it was impossible for her to conceal it any amid fear and trembling confession to the officers all that had taken place. The officers arrested Abbott in his home on Belmont street, where he was lying in bed, and carried him to jail.

CHARLES NORBON CRIMED
The Pitiful Story of Wrong Fold by Little Eva Pennell.

Some two months ago Eva Pennell, the 10-year-old daughter of Richard Pennell, a rag peddler, residing at the corner of Ellsworth avenue and Island street, was taken to a well known saloon to take her father to the billiard room of Cherry street and Ellsworth avenue. On arriving there Charles Norton, a seaman for Tate, induced her to accompany him back to the billiard room, where he offered her a dollar. The unsuspecting child walked along with him chatting gaily and when on a lonesome part of the street she saw a man on the ground and brutally assaulted her.

Her mother being in a delicate condition at the time she was told that she was made of it until yesterday when Detectives Gates and Gaze kept her father and mother until she was taken to a hospital for a time at least.

THE MEXICAN REVOLT.
A Phase of the Matter which Bothers the Washington Office.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator Quay had quite a little conference with the president today, and while the cabinet meeting was in session General Clarke was called, but could not see Mr. Harrison. All of the eight members of the cabinet were present at the meeting today, the attendance being complete for the first time in about a month. Secretary Blaine was driven over from his house and received the congratulations of his associates upon his complete recovery. Secretary Elikins made his appearance for the first time.

He was lasted two hours and a quarter which occasioned much gossip and many rumors. The story which attracted the most attention was that Senator Quay had been held up by the Mexican government had presented a request that Mexican troops be permitted to march into the United States as a result of Garza. Secretary Blaine stated that Minister Romero had made no such request and the officials pledged complete ignorance to the subject.

It has been ascertained that Senator Quay had made a confidential trip to the United States through the state department for the international passage of money and other articles to the United States two or three days ago and promised that the matter would take documentary form before long. He has not, however, pressed the matter farther. The question is considered to be a serious one because of its international importance. The matter of damage that might be done to American life and property by the use of a difficult one to decide, particularly in view of the present friendly relations between the United States and Mexico.

MINNESOTA ALLIANCE
The Platform Adopted at the State Convention at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 8.—The state convention of the Alliance is now closed and the construction of the platform and constitution as usual the Donnellys had everything their own way and carried every point. After some discussion it was resolved to vote on a number of resolutions. The resolutions were so numerous that they were taken up in an order of precedence. A minority report on this and the free coinage of silver was submitted by Mr. Nixon and was not adopted. The resolutions were taken up in an order of precedence. SAVE 200 WERE KILLED

LATER PARTICULARS OF THE BRIBERS MINE EXPLOSION.

Two Hundred and Twenty-Three Men Yet Unaccounted For—Those Who Escaped Terribly Burned—A Blast Ignited Gas in the Mine—One Daring Escape.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 8.—A special from Krebs, I. T., says that it is now believed that fully 300 miners were killed by last night's explosion.

At the time of the explosion 350 men were in the shaft, most of whom were brought out to take them out, and the foot of the shaft is one mass of dead bodies.

Eighty-five men came out by an old entry and forty-two were saved by the shaft. The majority of them are more or less burned and bruised and half will probably die.

This leaves about 223 men yet in the mine and in all probability 200 are dead. At 7:10 a. m. ten dead men were brought out and only one could be recognized, the remainder were so mutilated.

SWENEY CONVICTED

Chief of the Prisoner's Brother and Wife Unhappy Outlook for the Little Family To Be Sentenced Today.

The case of Joseph Sweeney, charged with criminal assault upon a Little League girl, was given to the jury yesterday afternoon, and just before 6 o'clock a verdict was returned guilty.

When the verdict was announced, the prisoner's brother, ex-Alderman Sweeney of Detroit, broke down completely and wept like a child. The prisoner's wife at first seemed dauntless, but when she saw her husband so bitter and so sad in the clerk's office, hugging her infant child, she burst into tears and wept bitterly.

RAILROAD IMPROVEMENTS.

The C. & W. M. Laying Out a Considerable Sum for Making Extensive Changes in its Yards at Holland.

The C. & W. M. railroad is laying out a considerable sum in making extensive changes in its yards at Holland. The yard will be moved from its present cramped location near the tracks to a new location on the main line to the north of the city where the main line of the C. & W. M. diverges from the main line. This step is taken to avoid the street crossings and the long trestle over the canal.

THE STATE OF TRADE

BROADSTREET'S REVIEW OF THE BUSINESS OF THE WEEK.

The Midwinter Business Still Continues in Most Branches of Trade—A Spring View Taken of the Outlook for Hoping Trade—Dry Goods Improve.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Broadstreet's State of Trade published tomorrow will say: Special telegrams indicate the continuation of the dullness of mercantile prices generally this week. Stock-tasks have not been completed, and where it has been traveling salesman are only beginning to go out after the holidays.

Very widespread confidence is expected in the outlook for a good spring trade, with the exception of some spots in the South. With another ten days jobbers and others will have taken the necessary steps to test the nature of the spring demand on staples of all sorts, and the outlook for the year is not in a particularly optimistic mood.

Business in all lines is reported as quiet or unchanged. There is no gain in the request for pig iron as yet, and for anthracite coal prices have been comparatively weak. Leather, rubber and iron are not in active demand and lumber and rubber only moderately so.

Live cattle are dull and featureless, but hogs at Western markets are steady. The pack at Cincinnati exceeds that of last week, and the market is somewhat better. Bank clearings at forty-four cities throughout the United States aggregate $35,075,025.00, fully 7 per cent less than in 1891, and even a trifle less than the total for 1890, by almost $1,000,000. The C. & W. M. railroad is laying out a considerable sum in making extensive changes in its yards at Holland.

Sugar is firm and wheat and flour hold their own on the basis of recent quotations. The available stock of wheat in the United States and Canada (both stocks) is about 1,000,000 bushels, or 15,000,000 and 16,000,000 respectively, more than were had Jan. 1, 1891, and less than were had Jan. 1, 1890. The average price of wheat is about 80 cents per bushel, and the average price of flour is about 25 cents per barrel.

The wholesale dry goods traders generally are optimistic of the outlook for spring trade. Export demand is light, but shipments of brown cotton in 1891 exceeded in value the same amount in 1890. Print-clothes at Fall River and Providence continue to improve and a heavy trade in blue and white goods is reported. (Gingham) are receiving considerable attention, but woolen goods are not so active. Cotton has declined 3-16 cents in the market on a free crop movement, and the demand for general trade through the depression of cotton prices has been very heavy cotton-producing regions in consequence.

No near-by wool prices are reported. The demand for the East, owing to a large importation of foreign wool, has been very active, as well as in December. The demand for Texas, Oregon and California wool has been very active. The average price of wool is about 10 cents per pound, and the average price of raw wool is about 15 cents per pound.

Exports of wheat, including flour, are increasing again, amounting to $3,311,000 in value, or 50 per cent more than in 1891, and 50 per cent more than in 1890. The average price of wheat is about 80 cents per bushel, and the average price of flour is about 25 cents per barrel.

There were 339 business failures in the United States this week, against 391 failures the week before.

THREE BLACK ROBBERS.
Nobles Arrested For Holding Up and Robbing West Side Retailers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—James George Golden and Fred Newberg, a quartette colored men were arrested yesterday at "Constock Row" on suspicion of robbery.

A week ago Monday night two colored men entered the grocery of W. H. Russell, a grocery store on North street near the west city limits and with drawn revolvers commanded Ganzvoort and his assistant to get out of the store. They then made a search of the drawers and took away from the store a quantity of goods. The police were called and the robbers were arrested.

The robbers secured $12 and left the place with the warning that the store was to be made to follow them they would use their guns.

The affair was reported to the police, but no mention was made of it and it remained a secret until yesterday when the police were called and the robbers were arrested. The robbers were taken to the police station and were held on $1000 bail. They were then taken to the court and were committed to the penitentiary.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN.

Thanks to Dr. Wright.
Edron Morning Press-I wish to say to the people of Grand Rapids in justice to Dr. Fred Wright, that he has done more for me than any doctor I ever found before and I feel that I cannot say any too much in his praise. I was brought to him through his kindness and was under his care at the time I lost my arm and have been ever since, which is about two years and a half. I have been taking morphine for thirteen years and a doctor in Grand Rapids told me the habit of it. There was no use in trying to get along without it for I could not. On the eleventh of November last I was taken very sick with brain trouble and Dr. Wright was called and he attended me for two weeks but just got around again. About four weeks ago he came in one morning to see me and he told me that he could not give me any more morphine for awhile. I had been taking one bottle a week; he told me that he would give me a medicine with morphine in it. I was to take a teaspoonful every three hours, he said when I had taken three bottles I would find out my full dose of morphine. Come to find out there was only one-half of a bottle of morphine in it. I was given five grains. Well, the first trial I knew had me broke of the morphine habit and I have not taken it since. I was what was being done until I found it out myself.

I wish to say that I can never feel thankful enough to him for his kindness he has restored me to my normal life and I am now as good as my former patient.

An Old Bachelor's Opinion.
Edron Morning Press-Idea of this man Geary of the World's Museum counting and finally succeeding in persuading Miss Downes of Chelsea to come to his museum for the express purpose of getting a husband for her partner. I am completely won over by what I have concluded to give my views of the case through the People's Column of The Morning Press. The population of the United States is estimated at 100,000,000. The number of men, the Statistical Review says, only four-fifths are of the male gender, the rest being females. Now with these facts would be utterly impossible for every woman to get a husband. The opposite sex, yet there is a very small per cent. of old bachelors. I am fully convinced that the willingness to pay home for a woman who comes out boldly and wants a husband. It goes to show that the man is just as anxious to be engaged and to get married.

Marriage and the Museum.
Edron Morning Press-I opened my paper this morning the first thing that met my eyes was the advertisement for Geary's museum beginning "Miss Downes, etc." and ending with "Who Will Marry Her?"
I do not need not excite the wonder of any one after this that our divorce records are increasing when things get to such a pass that marriage is looked upon so lightly as something sacred and that as a drawing card in a divorce museum. When a lady (?) sits herself up for a show to secure a husband she is not in it with a man as a class not command the respect that a woman who refrains from divorce present.

A Pointer for Doubtless.
Edron Morning Press-I am very much interested in "Doubtless" and I am glad that he is a doubter; doubting leads to investigation, and if Mr. "Doubtless" would attend some of these interesting lectures at the Lyceum he might learn a thing or two to his advantage concerning Spiritualism. A DOUTER AND INVESTIGATOR OF SPIRITUALISM.

Dancing for a Postage.
A mild way of hazing uninitiated scholars has been in vogue for a long time at the Electric Medical College. Every new student is required to buy a postage stamp and give a little gift which will be recognized as a first step to associate with. If he refuses at first he will be notified in a week or two, who slight him on every possible occasion and make him the butt of their jokes. The only way to get out of this is to buy a postage stamp and give a little gift which will be recognized as a first step to associate with.

Novel to Some.
Miss Antiquo-No, I'm not going to Mr. Whitehair's reception.
"Ob, she always talks about times and she makes me tired. I don't see how you can stand it."
"Dear, her subject is new to most of us, you know." New York Weekly.

FROM THE DELEGATES TO THE RECENT LANSING CONVENTION.
President Frank DeBar of the Cincinnati Political League for the People's Party.

Second-The president of the People's Party of the State of Michigan, having for object immediate political action, and in obedience to a call issued for this purpose by several industrial societies representing his laboring masses of the state, we are requested to give a report in full not only to the different sections which are to be held in each district, but also to the public in general. In obedience to duty and request we herewith submit proceedings, result, in favor and position taken by the People's Party of the State of Michigan.

Third-When the seventh resolution was read it was a surprise to the delegates of all societies represented, except to a delegation of one of the old political parties, to witness and hear the reading of the resolution, which was adopted by the People's Party of the State of Michigan.

Fourth-When the eighth resolution was read it was a surprise to the delegates of all societies represented, except to a delegation of one of the old political parties, to witness and hear the reading of the resolution, which was adopted by the People's Party of the State of Michigan.

Why are not some able to get up a representation of the eagle that looks something like that glorious bird? The spread wing idea is unattainable. The bird, not only because of its antiquity, that it is tolerated. An eagle that would spread its wings and legs in an attempt to symbolize peace and the love of an eagle at rest, perched on a crag or limb of a tree, would not be a bad one for our coin. -Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

They go into an argument about the money made by people who earn their living in the "city" who are considered, "people" can't argue satisfactorily unless they do it. But here is the opinion of a woman who was once on the "stage" who was considered, "people" was clever enough in her work to get applause and praise, who presumably would not be considered, "people" and yet who is content with her present life.

THE GROWTH IN WEALTH SINCE 1850 HAS GONE TO THE TRANSPORTATION COMPANIES AND THE MANUFACTURERS-THE CROPPER HAS FALLEN BEHIND IN THE RACE.
At the beginning of this century 90 per cent of the population of the United States lived on farms, and owing to the high rates for transportation surplus products had no market value more than fifty miles from a market town. Now we have about 5,000,000 farmers, and the value of the property is estimated at $1,000,000,000.

Social Functions. A brighter day will have dawned on the world when the merchant, the manufacturer, the farmer, the scavenger and the mechanic shall all regard their work as social functions. This large desire to serve the public welfare, as well as to earn a living for one's self, alone is worthy of a man. That alone can furnish the needed inspiration for life's work.—Dr. Gladden.

Seven good meals for $1.00 at the Ten Ace Restaurant, 31 Canal street, for $1.00.

For Honest Man's Rights.

This is a rather fine point of law which holds that a man with burglar's tools on his person, who goes up the steps of a dwelling house where he has no lawful business, has made an attempt to commit burglary, but it is good law for the protection of the community. The one who trespasses upon them with unlawful purpose has committed an unlawful deed.—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Unusual Position. Photographer.—If you'll hold your chin a little higher, sir, I can take a better picture.

Mr. Henpeck.—Hold my chin higher? Why, man, alive, I've been married twenty years.—Texas Siftings.

The government proposes to build another timber dock in the navy yard at Brooklyn, the accommodations of the other two docks being insufficient. It is to be about 600 feet in length.

Four years ago a strange birthday present was received by Mrs. Kettelberg of San Francisco. It was a coffin, and the other day he was buried in it.

Bryant Council No. 122, Royal Arcanum, attention.

WILL DONE, '91! HOW DO YOU DO, '92!

As we glide down the pathway of time and pass the milestone, '91, we stop long enough to glance backward and say: Farewell! to the most successful and happiest year of our business history. Smooth traveling, sun shining, flowers blooming and birds singing. Nothing but pleasant memories will ever recall the year just past.

And, now, as we pass into the misty future of '92 so full of hope and promise, we wish to announce to our friends and patrons, that the same attention and leniency extended to installment buyers in the past will continue in the future.
