GATHERING OF THE DEMOCRATIC CLANS FOR TODAY'S CONVENTION

The City filled with Statesmen—Many Private Conferences Being Held—Smoothing Things Over—Mr. Whigam's Campaign—The Wigwam Reading—Missy Picture.

MEMORANDUM. May 3.—The town is alive tonight with delegates to the Democratic state convention. Most of the old war horses came over this morning and the later trains were full of them.

There has been a good talk over the election of E. H. Hill as a delegate at the convention. Until the past few days it has been taken for granted that he would be selected by acclamation, but is now reported that Kent county is divided.

The hotels are crowded and should the convention hold over tomorrow night, many delegates will have to sleep in the corridors or camp on the floor at the wigwam.

The decorations at the wigwam are now complete, festoons of gaily colored garlands, red, white and blue, and a mosquito netting, red, white and blue, is hung in front of the platform.

The committee discussed the matter of having E. H. Hill as a delegate, but many Democrats who do not like Hill protest against this nomination.

There may be a struggle over the position of national committee. It is surmised that Mr. Campbell's meeting with the governor may result in some hearing on the subject.

THEY GAVE US A CALL. Many of the Delegates Made a Short Stay at Grand Rapids.

THE HOTELS WERE CROWDED yesterday with delegates to the Democratic convention from all over the state who were on a pilgrimage to Muskegon to assist in the work of organizing out delegates-at-large, to the great Democratic national convention, Cleveland was the name Cleveland's name was on every lip.

IT WAS MURDER. A Judge Speaks His Mind Regarding the Tennessee Lynching.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 3.—In the criminal court here Judge Childers charged the grand jury to investigate the case of the two negroes. He said that all who were present or aiding or abetting were guilty of murder. He said also that those who participated in breaking, or attempt to break, up a mob, were guilty of felony.

PIEGREE'S PLANNING

HE PROPOSES TO HAVE GOVERNORSHIP. He (Clyburn) Secretary of the Michigan Club—His Campaign Machine is Grouched With Plenty of Money—A Vigorous Campaign Will Not be Waived.

DETROIT, May 3.—The Free Press has had a column of gossip Saturday on the alleged control of the Michigan club by Senator McMillan and refers to the additional fact that the Free Press says the secretaryship of the club to take charge of the Piogree headquarters.

Commenting on the publication a prominent Michigan club man says: "The Piogree is a very successful machine. It has been yanked off the McMillan machine."

UNBURNING WIVES

THE HARRISON AND ANTI-HARRISON WIVES KEEP FAST.

HARRISON HAS JUST HALF ENOUGH VOTES TO NOMINATE HIM AND IS WORRYING ABOUT THE OTHERS—IT IS NOT BELIEVED THAT HE CAN GET THE REPUBLICAN NOME.

NEW YORK, May 3.—According to a Washington correspondent, administering state in politics is found in the official talk which is kept at administration headquarters there for the purpose of keeping track of the result of the district and state nominating conventions.

THE STATES WHICH HAVE FAILED TO NOMINATE THE DELEGATES AT LARGE TO VOTE FOR HARRISON MAY BE FORCED TO GIVE THE PRESIDENT AT LEAST TWENTY-THREE VOTES ON THE FIRST BALLOT.

A Dark Horse Trottled Out and Showing His Face in the Ring—A Strong Feeling That There Will be No Change in the Appointment Already Made?

Now that the new police and fire commissioner has been named and is considerable speculation as to who will be the next superintendent of police.

There seems to be no end to candidates, but the most prominent of whom is Superintendent William W. Whitley.

There is a strong feeling, however, that no change will be made now that Mr. Whitley is again a member of the board.

Henry Gorters said to report that he jumped into the river Monday night in nature. The last time he tried to do his best in that way was after about two weeks ago. It is to be hoped he will never again be seized with the terrible affliction which causes him so much pain.

Monday evening was the fifth wedding anniversary of Mrs. B. B. Collins of 60 North Front street, and about fifty of their friends gave them a surprise by calling at their home and presenting them with several useful presents as a token of their regard.

Mrs. Robert Olds of Hartford has been dangerously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Byron Baxter, 21 Park avenue, Mrs. Olds has been a great sufferer for twelve weeks from what she at first supposed to be a common cold, pleurisy, but she grew rapidly worse and was removed to the home of her daughter where a course of doctors was called and an examination her trouble to be a deep seated abscess in her chest, which was successfully removed.

Miss Calla Travis' grand carnival dance in Hartman's reception hall last night was largely attended and highly enjoyed. The young folks loved to participate in Miss Travis' parties with much pleasure as they are sure to be affairs that bring much pleasure to the participants.

THE THEATERS.

The threatening weather did not prevent a large crowd from attending the presentation of "Monte Cristo" by James O'Neill and his excellent company at Powers' opera house last night. Mr. O'Neill is no stranger to theatre-patrons of this city as he has appeared here in the same play season after season. He would be welcomed many seasons more by theatre-patrons of this city and it would be hard to imagine when they would see an actor who has led him to believe that grander successes await him in a different role, so he has given it out that this season will be the play "Monte Cristo" and it will ever remain a pleasant memory. That "Monte Cristo" will remain beloved while the creator of the part lives is in course of time the clothing board a few thousand with some play of less dramatic worth will again go back to his first love, relative and friend, and he has become so thoroughly identified with the play that while he lives it will be known to fame only as "Monte Cristo." Take the character out of his life and his name would soon be forgotten. Ada Gray has been cast in the role of "Eugenie." It is that play was suddenly stricken from her memory she would rather to accompany "So I let her go." While he is rich he can daily with other plays but the theatre patrons will soon tire of him, and when he loses the competency he has earned, the public will again watch with unfeeling "Monte Cristo" with renewed interest. The presentation last night was all that could be desired, as the largest and magnificent company was well balanced.

Everyone will turn out to honor Charles A. Garwood's benefit at Powers' tonight. The local lodge of Elks will tender him a reception, and he will no doubt be the recipient of an ovation that will leave no room for doubt as to his popularity. The attraction, "A Modern Husband," is taken part in by the following company:—Belle, a crank of the first water, Clarence F. Mountain, Isaac Rasmkin, the legal luminary of Perkinsville, Timothy Drilling, from Perkinsville, Mark East, Alferdon Larkins, the raw material of our civilization, W. H. Murdock, the "Tinker" of Perkinsville, Ed. McKelvie, Margaret Rasmkin, the belle of Perkinsville, Miss Millie Edmonds, the belle of Perkinsville, a widow with a purpose, Miss N. Kellogg, Jennie, a modern tyrant, Miss Maud Harris.

Another fair-sized audience greeted Ada Gray and her excellent company at Ledmond's last night. "East Lynne" will be the attraction all the week, as theatre patrons seem never to tire of Miss Gray in that role. Only three more remain of the theatre season at Ledmond's and then the house will be darkened and grim shadows envelop the place where laughter delighted.

The symphony orchestra entertainment at Hartman's hall next Monday night will be the musical event of the season and is not excelled by any musical organization that has ever appeared in Grand Rapids. The hall will contain a few people, and those who do not go early will fail to gain admission.

The vaudeville attraction at Smith's opera house this week is thoroughly enjoyed by the patrons as the different acts are very clever and provoke much enthusiasm. A matinee will be given this afternoon when the entire bill will be presented.

Col. George G. Briggs yesterday engaged a box for the performance of "A Modern Husband" which will be given tonight at Powers' and the occasion will be managed by Charles A. Garwood's benefit. C. J. Whitney, the well known Detroit theatrical man, dropped quietly into town yesterday and will occupy a box at Manager Garwood's benefit tonight.

George Dallavan telegraphed from New York to reserve him ten tickets for the benefit performance at Powers' tonight. Ordinary. Miss Carrie U. Thomas, daughter of John W. and Emily Thomas, was born in the township of Wyoming, Kent county, Mich., on the 2nd day of March, 1862, and died at the home of her parents in Grandville, Mich., of consumption, on the 27th day of April, 1902. About ten years ago the family, which consisted of the father and mother and the twin girls, Clara and Carrie, moved into Grandville. These twin sisters, being the only children in the family, were very much attached to each other, and as a result grew up in harmony and lived in peace and love; but about a year ago Clara died, which was a great affliction to her parents, but especially to Carrie, who was deprived of the presence and society of one of her only two sisters. It took a long time to get over the loss, but she was very much attached to her sister, and she never relaxed its grasp until it became a means of her death. She died a good Christian young lady. She lived an exemplary life and died a triumphant death. Her funeral services were conducted at the M. E. church in Grandville, where a large number of her friends and relatives assembled to pay for the unity of her respect to the remains of one they respected and loved, for the purity of her life and the nobility of her character. Her bereaved parents in their grief and loneliness have the respect and sympathy of the people of the community.

At the funeral the Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church (of which society Miss Thomas was treasurer at the time of her death) and the pastor of the following resolutions: Resolved, That we sympathize with the bereaved parents in their grief and loneliness and that a copy of these resolutions be published in our papers, together with a copy sent to the bereaved parents. Resolved, That we sympathize with the bereaved parents. Resolved, That we sympathize with the bereaved parents.

A Great Tailor Dies.

A French military tailor of great renown has lately joined the majority, after having outlived by more than a score of years the period of splendor and extravagance, in connection with army uniforms, which set in under the regime of the first consul, and came to a close simultaneously with the fall of the second empire. M. Panle, the "artiste" in question, whose funeral took place in Paris recently, had himself been a soldier before the thirties, and on the accession of Charles X. was transferred from the stately corps of the gendarmes cuirassiers to a crack hussar regiment, in which his sartorial talent soon enabled him to attain the position of "tailleur en chef." His reputation for good taste and correct judgment spread rapidly throughout the French army, so that in course of time the clothing board accustomed itself to consult him respecting all important changes in uniforms and equipments, and it became a privilege to seek the opinions for the French cavalry in particular.

Panle's influence endured through the reports of the citizens among which "the nephew of his uncle." The late emperor held Panle's gifts in such high estimation that he would not wear any military dress which had not been turned out by the famous ex-hussar, who was, moreover, honored by a special commission to "inspect" the uniforms of a grenadier of the guard—ever indited by the prince imperial. Panle's taste seems to have suited Legitimists, Orleanists and Bonapartists equally well—London Standard.

One of Kansas City's prominent citizens was escorting his wife along the street during the high winds of Friday when they were caught by a particularly strong breeze, almost lifted from their feet. The citizen caught hold of a brass rail and his wife clung to his arm, but the citizen's hold was loosened, and two fingers were sprained. His wife was torn away from him and driven across the street. As she walked away she called out:—"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

That produced a calm, and as the wife departed, the smile departed from the citizen's face.—Kansas City Times.

Some Poisoning. Some careful experiments have been made by eminent pathologists on poison by the sunac, the result indicating an almost perfect identity in the result with the disease known as erysipelas, and it is suggested therefore that the same remedy may be used for Rhus poison for erysipelas. A lather of common potash soap, made strong and applied with a shaving brush to affected parts, is a well-recognized and effectual remedy. Those liable to be poisoned by this plant will do well to remember this.—Meehan's Monthly.

The Largest Pair of Shoes. A Georgia shoemaker has finished the largest pair of shoes ever made for actual use. He took a piece of leather containing 1,040 square inches to make the uppers, and one of 1,960 square inches to make the soles. The shoes are 14 inches long and 9 1/2 inches wide. The total combined tipped the scales at nearly 3 1/2 pounds.—St. Louis Republic.
