

BE A BOON ONE

THE CONVENTION WILL LAST SEVERAL DAYS.

J. Sloat Fassett chosen for Temporary Chairman—He is a Strong Blaine Man and Will Meet With Opposition—Many Contested Seats to be Disposed Of.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 6.—The national convention today appointed J. Sloat Fassett temporary chairman of the convention and practically decided to steal the contesting of Blaine delegates from southern states in the preliminary convention. These two actions will make trouble.

Before the national committee it was pretty well settled that J. Sloat Fassett, the young New Yorker, would be elected by the national body as its choice for temporary chairman of the convention. This result was brought about in a great degree by the action of the New York delegation, which met at 11 o'clock at the state headquarters at the West hotel, and after the recommendation Mr. Fassett's name for the position, subject to the ratification of the national committee. The choice for temporary chairman, after much talk, settled down to the New York men.

The Blaine faction in the national convention was thoroughly in favor of Fassett. The Harrison men were at first in favor of Horace Porter, but later evinced an inclination to support Delegate M. Patterson of New York City. To please both parties the national committee decided to refer the problem to New York for solution; the result was Fassett's election.

LAST NIGHT'S GOSSIP.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 6.—A reporter who met Matt Quay tonight asked for an expression of his views. He replied: "You may have my views in a few minutes as far as I am concerned, but my knife for Harrison and knife carrier to the hill."

A significant sign was hung up in the rounds of the West hotel this afternoon. It reads: "Indiana Blaine Headquarters. It shows that the Hoosier developing unexpected strength in the Hoosier state. Those who could not get the recognition they thought they were entitled to at Harrison's hands have jumped Harrison's game and proposed a fight against him at all hazards. A couple of strong clubs from Fort Wayne and Lafayette arrived this afternoon and declared themselves almost to a man anti-Harrison. This was the sign of a nation that has instructed its delegates to establish Indiana Blaine headquarters.

It is learned that the Blaine leaders in Minnesota are telegraphing to the national Blaine leaders in the country to call mass meetings and telegraph their delegates to the national convention as may be passed. This course is being pursued in all districts throughout the nation that have instructed their Blaine voters to the national convention. It is not believed Harrison would be instructed by the national body to elect Blaine, but it is believed that Blaine would be elected by the national body to elect Blaine.

At the meeting of the Iowa delegation today Gen. Clarkson was re-elected as its committee on resolutions. The resolutions were presented by the Tippecanoe club of Des Moines, but they were laid on the table without action. A poll of the Minnesota delegation

CITY'S CALAMITY

PARTICULARS OF THE DESTRUCTION BY FIRE AND WATER.

A Flowing River of Five Two Miles Long Ignited in Three Minutes—A Scene of Terror and Destruction—Fearful Loss of Human Life and Property.

On Oct. 26, June 6.—The appalling disaster which overtook this city is greater, so overwhelming and came so suddenly that even yet its full magnitude is not comprehended, and the half is not known. An eye witness gives the following description of the awful catastrophe:

"At 11 o'clock in the forenoon a large proportion of the population of the city was distributed along the banks and bridges of the Allegheny river, and the creek watching the rise of the flood in both streams, the chief cause of the rise of the latter being due to a cloud burst over Tulliville last night which resulted in the loss of 200,000 gallons of water. At the time mentioned an ominous covering of oil made its appearance on the crest of the flood pouring down the Oil creek valley, and the dangerous foreboding waves of gas from distillate and kerosene came down the surface of the stream. People began slowly to fall back from the bridge and creek banks, but they had not reached the shore when an explosion was heard up the stream, which was rapidly followed by a second and a third, and a fourth, and lightning, the creek for a distance of two miles was filled with an awful mass of fire, which was seen in the distance rolled high above the creek and river hills. No pen can picture the scene, and no eye can see it. Oil City is bounded on all sides by hills. Oil Creek comes down from the west, and the Allegheny from the east. Its confluence here with the Allegheny is crossed by a bridge to the portion of the town which lies above the creek and the north bank of the river.

APPEARED IN THREE MINUTES.

Arriving rapidly with which the flames enveloped the town. Almost all that portion of the town was on fire within three minutes of the time of the explosion, and no one knows as yet how many of the inhabitants are dead in the ruins of their homes.

"The GRAND RAPIDS is a town of 10,000 people. It is situated on the east end of the creek bridge mentioned. Almost as quickly as the words can be written fully 5,000 people in that portion of the town were on the streets, and the scene was a fearful one. Men forgot that they were men, and scores of men, women and children were knocked down and trampled upon by the rushing waves of fire. The fire spread rapidly, and in a few minutes it had reached the town. Just as this frantic mass of humanity fled from the town, a second explosion occurred, knocking many people down, shattering the windows in the town, and scattering the debris of the panic-stricken people was that a cloud-burst of fire, bordered and overtopped by a great canopy of dark smoke, was falling upon the city.

"It was no wonder that people were knocked down and trampled upon, and ran or were helped to the streets. And after they were out of danger they were not able to help their relatives and friends, who had been trying to get out of the town. The smoke, however, was so thick that the available flame came. They have since been searching for the missing, but the city tonight is full of the searchers.

HOW THE FLAMES STARTED.

A Spark From a Locomotive Caused the Explosion. The distillate and benzine on the creek came from a tank lifted by the engine, and it was ignited by a spark from an engine on the Lake Shore road, just above the tunnel at the northern part of the city. The fire shot up the creek as well down, and the flames reached the Allegheny of the retreating boats. But it believed their burning contents can be kept within the tanks, and that a second baptism of fire may be averted.

The fire department kept the fire from spreading by firing on the buildings, as well as the two bridges. For miles up the creek on both sides the families have been rendered homeless. The fire came so suddenly and so unexpectedly that many of the families were saved along the stream, and the sky for miles around are still black with the smoke from burning dwellings and oil tanks.

AT TITUSVILLE.

The disaster there nearly as great as at Grand Rapids. The disaster which overtook this city could not well have been greater without entirely wiping out the town. The loss of life cannot be estimated. It is believed that over 100 and may reach twice that number.

The disaster was precipitated by three cloud bursts. Two were fifteen miles apart, and the north while the third was near the city. This caused the sudden rising of the waters of Oil creek, breaking the Sparrow dam and enveloping the southern

BATTLES FOR SILVER

THE WESTERN DELEGATES MAKE A BOLD ATTEMPT.

The Question Will be Presented to the Committee on Platform in a Manner to Command Attention—Western States Threaten to Bolt the Convention.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 6.—Silver may shine brightly in the proceedings of the convention. If within their power to accomplish the delegations from the western states will bring about the insertion in the platform of a plank favoring free coinage. To formulate a concerted plan of action in this respect a conference of the representatives from Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Montana and Idaho. The delegates from the California men to take any active part in pushing the silver question to the fore, and the delegates will endeavor to make the silver question one of the issues of the convention. The most prominent of the delegates got together early this morning, discussed the situation and adopted a plan of conduct for the formal convention. It has been decided to make the main fight for silver in the committee on resolutions. As representatives of this committee the silver states have announced that they will support Senator Wolcott who probably appears for Colorado and D. L. Bliss for Nevada.

THEIR PROCEEDINGS IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER LAST NIGHT.

The Electric Light Company Objects to Report Carhart's Report, but the Council Approves the Report of the Committee. Only Routine Business Done.

Alderman Coffer was the only absentee at the regular meeting of the council last night. The Grand Rapids Electric Light and Power company submitted a communication criticizing the action of the committee on lamps in employing an expert to test the power of the light, and concluding with the statement that no reduction would be made in the bill; committee on lamps.

Clarence Cotton, James T. Moloney and others remonstrated against the granting of a franchise to the Grand Rapids Electric Light and Power company through Ottawa street. Their reasons were explicit and based on the fact that the rumble of the cars would interrupt the court business; committee on ordinance.

Andrew Kolenbrauer came in with the same old petition for injuries received at the corner of Canal and East Leonard streets; committee on claims.

The comptroller submitted a report on the claim of the Electric Light Company for $3,283.42, with a reduction of $60.50 reduction of $60.50 made by the comptroller; committee on claims.

The board of health reported their action relative to carrying the nuisance case of Stephen Weiden to the Superior court; adopted.

The committee on sewers reported the sewer main badly out of order. Alderman Turner said that the whole sewer system should undergo a change and that a sewer trunk sewer should be built under the supervision of a sanitary engineer; referred.

The committee on streets reported that they had not recommended that the street railway tracks in Ottawa street be moved to the company's franchise covered that territory.

The committee on lamps reported that they had employed Professor Hart to make tests of the power furnished by the Electric Light Company, and that the power was found to be deficient; committee on lamps.

The committee on licenses reported that they had received a petition from the Grand Rapids Electric Light and Power company for a license to operate a drug store in the city; committee on licenses.

The committee on resolutions reported that they had received a petition from the Grand Rapids Electric Light and Power company for a license to operate a drug store in the city; committee on resolutions.

BLAINE AND HARRISON. Never was a cabinet officer so down man and madly that that of Secretary of State by James G. Blaine.

Mr. Blaine has the reputation of being a very great man. It is asked who has Mr. Blaine ever done to give him this reputation? He is an able stump orator. He made an excellent speaker of the house of representatives.

When Blaine's acceptance was doubted, the Blaine supporters were jubilant. Since Blaine has indicated his desire for the nomination, his erstwhile helper supporters have suddenly sobered up.

Both Harrison and Blaine are capable of deep and bitter revenges, and the nomination of either would justify the distrust of the knife by the other. They can be united for the good of the party.

FLOOD AND FIRE. This last disaster by flood in western Pennsylvania is something unparalleled in the history of the world.

There is no doubt that the destruction of this flood in the Oil Creek valley was caused by a dam that burst the same as at Johnston.

It would seem their domain should be yielded to them and broad open field culture. The habitations of men, cities, towns and farm homes should be on the high ground that bound these valleys.

The gentlemen who are meeting in national convention at Minneapolis to-day are standing in the presence of calamities so great that they can only be compared to the greatest of this kind in all history and are but a part of a long and frightful series that began at Johnston with the opening months of the year.

It is noticeable just at this time, when the young corn needs the husbandman's care to protect it from the wicked weeds.

HE WAS LABOR'S FRIEND.

An Unfading and Fearless Champion of the People's Cause. Gilbert De La Matry, one of the noblest men I have ever known, died a few days ago.

He was active in reform movements during the past sixteen years either known or known of him. He was even the outspoken champion of labor, and in the pulpit, upon the lecture platform and in the halls of congress, his eloquence has been freely devoted to the uplifting of the masses.

He received an academic education and graduated from the theological college. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1854. He came into especial prominence as an advocate of the Greenback money doctrine in 1878 while occupying a pulpit in Indiana, and he was nominated by the Greenbackers in that year to represent the Indianapolis district in congress and was elected by a handsome majority.

It was during the years from 1882 to 1887, when he occupied the leading Methodist pulpit of Denver, that I had the pleasure and honor of becoming closely acquainted with this good man.

I have before me a letter dated at Akron, O., April 3, 1893, in which he speaks of those days in Denver, and says, "I cherish an abiding love for the noble man with whom I have toiled in the cause of humanity."

He was a Christian in the true sense of that term, and he preached as his Master wished his apostles to preach.

There is no doubt that the destruction of this flood in the Oil Creek valley was caused by a dam that burst the same as at Johnston.
