THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1929.

THE BATTLE AT HOMESTEAD, Pa., is terrible and deplorable.

The amalgamated iron workers there are locked out by the Carnegie, Frick and McKees, and a man worth $400,000, wholly made from the profits of a protected industry within twenty-five years.

These locked-out workers are resisting reduction of wages, and the Carnegie refuse all overtures for peace. They have placed their great works where they are employed from 3,000 to 5,000 men.

There has been considerable talk by leading Democrats in Michigan that the Carnegie plan of battle is to lead the Democrats to give the number of Michigan Democrats will give Mr. Cleveland.

But the trouble is to get these non-unionists inside the fort without their coming in contact with the union men, whose persuasion is feared.

The union men will resist by armed force the unlawful employment of these Pinkertons and it is between these mercenaries and the union workmen that the battle has been placed.

So far the union men have succeeded in driving these blood-hungry dogs. What the morning news may bring cannot now be anticipated.

A strike is war and this strike is proceeding upon the lines of war. It is a copy by the Carnegies of the tactics employed against union labor in all parts of the country and of which this city has had a taste.

In reality this bloody contest is not over the wages involved, that is a mere pretext. It is a battle to put down and destroy union labor.

They will have the sympathies of all Americans. Further, they are bent on maintaining their right to organize.

But they should destroy no property, submit to the proper officers of the law and not forcibly interfere with the rights of the subject classes.

THE RARE OLD CURE: The old party papers are united in their manner of treatment of the People's Party platform.

deniable. Under these circumstances it is agreed that the only thing to be done is to denounce the supporters of the People's Party as a lot of cranks, fools, commotionists, and scoundrels.

This is the same course that is being pursued by the greenback party if years ago, and yet the doctrines of that party are now fixed in the record of the supreme court of the nation and in the hearts of the people.

But there is deep dissatisfaction in both these parties to question the and the dissatisfied voters are going to the People's party to get a quartet of leaders to their country home.

No great crowd of people will be distressed over the defeat of Henry M. Staley for Parliament. He has got to learn that the voters in England are not his.

GENERAL WEAVER WANTS THE ARMY an enlisted man and came out a brigadier-general for gallant services in the field. That is about his record in the People's party.

It is not yet known whether Jay Gould is a Democrat or Republican this year, but it is certain he is not supporting Weaver.

GEN. JAMES B. WEAVER is a brava man as stands for the presidency today, no difference what party has named the other.

THE DEMOCRATS ARE THE CANAL CONVENTION called on July 10 at Detroit and not a fair and kindly editorial treatment.

There is a Weaver in the Field and there is a Field with the Weaver.

THE FIFTH WARD PARTY CONVENTION will be held in Swedish Hall, corner Broadway and West Division street, on Tuesday evening, July 3rd.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY CONVENTIONS: A convention of the People's party of the county will be held in good Temperance Hall, Michigan street, Thursday, July 14, 1929.

THE NATURE OF THE BATTLE is such that one elector withheld from Harrison and given to Weaver might defeat the former, or if given him it might win him.

THE MEASURE HE DREW UP AND PASSED through the legislature changing the basis of taxation of rates of property.

THE CONFINANCE OF THE GLANT Clothing company's mortgage slaughter sale of the Sherman clothing store.

A GREAT BATTLE.

JIM CORBETT PREPARING TO MEET JOHN L. SULLIVAN.

His Physician Thinks He Will Meet the World's Champion More Than Even Grand-Corbett's Fighting Weight.

The coming battle between John L. Sullivan and James J. Corbett, will not be a one-sided affair by any means. Those who are betting heavily think the champion of the world has "no dead sure thing" by any means. Even Sullivan himself is not so confident.

He has beaten 100 men, but Corbett. "Some say that the champion actually despairs of victory in the coming contest."

Corbett went to Dr. John Wilson Gibbs in New York the other day and said himself that Dr. Gibbs is a celebrated admirer of athletics and a close medical adviser of Grover Cleveland.

The examination was exhaustive and Dr. Gibbs pronounced Corbett a remarkably well-developed young man. He said he listened to the beating of Corbett's heart. This organ was also normal. In fact he was given the best of health as far as any critical examination could determine.

When it came to measuring, the doctor referred to a volume in his text-book and told Corbett just how much the arms, legs, chest, abdomen and neck of a man 6 feet 1 inch tall should be. These proportions were based on calculations made by authorities on the subject.

"In the first place you should weigh 195 pounds," Dr. Gibbs began. "Well, I am within one pound of that, I stand," Corbett answered.

"If you weigh more you wouldn't injure you in the least and I will endeavor to fix you up."

"I am a famous All Around Sporting Man of the United States," Dr. Gibbs said. "Our portrait this week is John Doughterty, one of the leading supporters of all branches of athletic sports in the Antipodes. His love of boxing helped very materially to bring prominently before the public the several Australian champions, notably F. P. Slavin, and it was the latter's efforts to induce Mr. Doughterty to furnish."

"A few years ago," Dr. Gibbs said, "I was introduced to a gentleman to the American continent by Mr. Doughterty who found the entire amount of the purse offered for the fight between Slavin and Costello and between Mitchell and Boland."

"He also generally offered to bid $100,000 of $25,000 per se," said John L. Sullivan, "and Faddy Slavin to fight with gloves the Melbourne Athletic club. It is not boxing alone, however, that this Australian patron of sports is so much interested in, but having frequently when required provided the material for the advancement of cricket and other exercises and pastimes. He was one of the principal founders of the Melbourne Athletic club."

The Prize Ring.
Jack McAniff is located at Hampden, Maine, training for his glove bout with Billy Knicker at the Manhattan Athletic club.

Harry Wilson of the Quaker City and Jack Kelly, better known as Ed. Wilson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., fought four Queensbury rounds at Glassboro, N. J., night of June 10, for a purse. Wilson scored by 108 pounds, while Kelly scored by 104 pounds.

Four rounds were fought, when the referee decided it a draw, neither in his judgment, nor in the best of the arguments. Wilson wants to fight Kelly for $500 to $500 of a side.

George Godfrey of England arrived last week. The efforts made to bring out a fight between him and Joe Choyssis were unsuccessful, for the reason that they will have no things to go nowadays. The Ormonde club seldom offers more than $1,500 and the National Sporting club less to heavily over the Slavin-Jackson battle that they are in no condition to do anything now.

"Fumb" Walker and Wash. Diggs fought for a purse of $50 and the gate receipts at Phoenix P. O., Va., on June 17. They are both colored boxers, and they made each other lively fighting, if not very scientifically, for thirty seven minutes, during which eight rounds were fought.

The referee declared that it drew.

THE CYCLING WORLD.

WHEELMEN WHIRLING ALONG THE LINES.

Sketch of James L. Miller of New York Who Has Done Much for the Sport—Frank Lenz and His Trip Around the World—Notes.

James L. Miller of the Riverside wheelmen of New York has been identified with cycling for the past ten years, and has taken an active part in everything appertaining to the sport in this country. He is the club's representative in the L. A. W., and is a persistent worker in the League's behalf.

So popular is he with the members of the club, that he could have secured the presidency at the last election had he cared for it, but as he served one term in this office, he accepted a position on the board of trustees instead.

The successful social events which the Riverside wheelmen have had during the past winter was due mainly to the efforts of this gentleman. Mr. Miller, while a member of the entertainment committee and the club's representative in the Metropolitan Association of Cycling clubs, is also chairman of the Raceway committee, and was instrumental in securing the half-mile safety New York State championship, to be run off at the Riverside racing club on July 9, at Manhattan Field.

Frank Lenz, the well-known bicyclist that is now to make a tour of the world, got out on his journey two weeks ago. For some few days prior to his start, his machine—"Vedra" for apparatus—has been on exhibition in Spalding's window in New York, and caused no end of comment. When he pushed his machine through the streets of New York, he was in front of A. B. Spalding & Bros.' store at 241 Broadway, he was giving a running send-off.

When he reached the Manhattan, A. C. Y. club, he was met by a large number of his friends, and he was given a running send-off.
