PHILADELPHIA, SEPTEMBER 22, 1892

A VIGILANT SHOW BY VANDEER

An exhibition being made on Camp... The announced exhibition is a "spiritual woman," for man only...

Under these circumstances it is a shame to the community that there are crowds of men, and here and there an immodest boy, found mean enough to pay ten cents to get a passing sight...

Because the body is unknown and unprotected should the indecent thing be permitted in a reduced and cultured community where the sacredness of the dead is respected...

The city authorities should forbid the further continuance of this outrage on all that usually mean regard...

The Republicans make a constant boast that there is no tariff on anthracite coal, although it is the subject of a law...

It speaks well for the longevity of American life and the soundness of the physical constitution of Americans...

SENDING IS GOING FORWARD IN Michigan under favorable circumstances, the ground is in the condition, some fields already green...

GETTING SOMETHING TO DO

There is a very practical hint for those who are longing for work... There is hardly a large establishment...

It is folly to pretend there can't be any good money in this country but gold money that will pay taxes and debts...

WHILE THE Republicans are in the business of getting appointments made by Republican judges, because...

It is a mistake to depend on "influence" to get work in a legitimate calling...

While it is good to have a due appreciation of one's abilities, it is not good to go on existing as to the field for their display...

The writer heard of a young man who, being in needy circumstances, went bravely to work at the first thing at hand...

A young lady who wished a place as typewriter got it in a common sense way... She wrote out a half dozen "resumes"...

It is not true that the world is a better market for uncles than for brains... The difficulty that hinders many, whatever their native brightness...

Men and women who with certain brilliant qualities, fail to realize this, find themselves in a position of failure...

Finally, it is not necessary that a want should be proclaimed in order to exist... Sometimes it may be anticipated...

Desiring Rates. We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery...

Thomas Henry Carter's rise in politics... His Republican presidential campaign has been extremely rapid...

He speaks complimentary of this year's exhibition and was surprised at its systematic arrangement.

THE THEATERS.

The great scenic spectacle "Lost in New York" opens at the Grand opera house next Monday evening for a stay of two weeks with many more pleasing visits, Thursday and Saturday. This company will give no Sunday performance owing to the great amount of scenery and mechanical accessories used in the production.

Among the realistic features of the play are, a river of real water containing over 60,000 gallons of water, a genuine steamboat that runs at the rate of 15 miles an hour and carries twenty passengers, a full rigged yacht, row boats and other marine craft.

The company carries two carloads of special scenery painted by Youngs of New York and Nason and Toomey of St. Louis. It is all brand new and is to be used. The sale of seats is now progressing at the box office.

The Wilbur Opera company continues to pack the Grand Opera house to the doors. Many of those who go once go twice and three, and hundreds fail to gain admittance.

HAPPY SOUTH-ENDERS

Their Farmers' Fair An Assured Success.*

Fully Ten Thousand People on the Grounds Yesterday Afternoon.

The friends of the South End fair were happy last night. The "big day" brought an attendance large enough to insure the managers against loss, and the premiums will probably be paid in full from the receipts. There were over two thousand carriages on the grounds in the afternoon, and it is estimated that they averaged four tickets each, which, with the number carried out by the railroad and carry-alls made the attendance fully ten thousand people. The great success of the "big day" produced broad smiles on the faces of Messrs. Meach, Whitely, Brewer, Trout, Davis, Moore, Rathbun and others, who declared that whatever the rest of the world may be the Kent County Agricultural society will hold fairs annually hereafter. "Lant" Rathbun said there was but one feature lacking to make their success complete, and promised to supply the want of the "big day" by the South End people to send down the best bull dog from the bench show to meet a South End ear and let the result settle the fight between the rival societies.

The attendance was nearly all from the country, mainly from southern Kent and northern Allegan, though the eastern part of Ottawa and eastern and northern Kent were well represented. In fact, it was a farmers' fair, and the people being in attendance. The pioneer farmers and their descendants were there more numerous and unannounced than ever before and they paid their way, very few complimentary tickets having been issued. This is taken by the managers that the people are loyal to the old Kent County society and will support its fairs, regardless of counter attractions.

Yesterday morning a large number of the farmer wives and daughters were entertained by Mrs. Martha Strickland, who gave them her ideas on equal rights for women, in about the same manner as she had done at North park the day before.

The afternoon programme opened with a parade of the horses which had been exhibited on the race track. The grand show, 84 horses, including some of the finest in the state being led or driven around the race track.

The races were good, but little interest was manifested in them. The people appeared to take more pleasure in visiting, admiring the exhibits and talking over old times than in the events on the race track, though the latter, in the stephens produced considerable amusement.

The three-quarters running race was called first and had five starters. Only three horses were necessary, the horses finishing in both in the following order: Trude, Dixie B. Charlie Logan, Dynamite and Brigham A. Time in each heat, 1:19.

The stephens race, 2 1/2 miles, with four starters, was more exciting. Don Pedis quit after taking the first hurdle, the company being entirely too fast for him. The others were well hunched over the entire course and were lapped at the finish by Bob Thomas won, Evangeline second, LeBlanc third in 5:09.

Election of Officers.
There was no contest over the election of officers and directors. One hundred and thirty-one votes were cast and they were all straight tickets except one who with the name of C. C. Comstock was written over that of John H. Withey for president. The others all read as follows:

For President—John H. Withey.
Secretary—Asa W. Meach.
Treasurer—Asa Brewer.
Directors—N. D. Emmons, H. N. Richards, George Morse, J. F. Trout and Horace Davis.

Programme for Today.
The superintendents and judges have not entirely completed the work of awarding premiums. They will finish this morning, and this afternoon all will enjoy the races. The grand stephens race will be the feature of the day, an interesting novelty race. There will also be a bicycle race for three handbikes, and a race for donkeys, in which wheelmen are expected to compete.

A Wonderful Dog.

Squire Schwab's office was crowded shortly near 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon with friends and acquaintances of the general manager who had been invited into the squire's office to witness the truly wonderful feats performed by a pet dog that had been attached by Special Constable Burroughs in the case of A. H. Moorman against Henry Weichelman for $17.95.

Weichelman travels for a New York clothing house, and until recently has lived at 119 Clark street. Moorman learned that Weichelman was about to remove to Gotham and immediately brought an attachment suit against him in Squire Schwab's court. When Constable Burroughs spent in the Clark street home to attach Weichelman's effects all he found was a beautiful dog, for which the clothing drummer is alleged to have paid $200.

Several children noticed the officer carrying the dog along the street, and told him the dog performed tricks and also smoked cigarettes. When Squire Schwab's office was reached and the magistrate was told of the dog's wonderful instinct he procured a package of cigarettes, and after summoning a number of friends resolved to test the dog's ability as stated above.

A lead pencil was tied to the animal's paw, and upon a sheet of legal cap—paper the dog wrote his name—Clay—in a very legible manner. Through a mail holder the canine smoked several cigarettes and astonished the assembled crowd by expectorating. The dog seemed to be surprised at the course being maintained. Rates remain firm at 5 to 6 per cent.
