DEMOCRATIC COURAGE.

Politicians frequently advance the idea that in politics it is a good plan to find out what your opponents want to do and then not do it. The Democrats appear to be applying this theory to the extra session problem.

Cowardice has been a prominent feature in the policy of the Democratic party for years and it would seem that it is to continue. They have been too cowardly to express their views on the matter of pensions, have dodged the currency question, are afraid of the silver party, and through out of the McKimley release, and but for O'Neil and Waterston would have straddled the tariff question in the campaign of '02.

One-half of what they said against the McKinley law during the campaign is true it should be repealed or modified forthwith—the quicker the better for the country and their party. If they are honest with themselves they will let their consciences, and not their pockets, go ahead and knock out the McKinley tariff before next Fourth of July. If they do not do so it will be because they are afraid.

MAKING HIMSELF TROUBLE.

The Democratic harmony which was alleged to be so thick during the campaign is being already rudely dispelled. While the election was being held, and the issue was doubtful Whitney's influence with Cleveland was strong enough to keep his hostility to the Tiger in subjection. Since his election made conciliation no longer necessary, Whitney has made no effort to conceal his dislike nor his determination to down the organization if possible. He has openly and forcibly expressed his opposition to the choice of Mr. Murray for senator. He has announced with considerable harshness that he owes nothing to Tammany and will give it nothing, and has encouraged the anti-Snappers to maintain their organization throughout the year. Mr. Cleveland is a great extent personally independent of the politicians because he will not be a candidate for another term. His party however, is almost wholly dependent upon him for its fate, and it is not surprising that it is political folly of the highest kind for him to encourage the continuance of factional feuds in so important a state. Mr. Cleveland, however, is totally devoid of sense, and has already shown he has proved by his tariff message blunders of four years ago, he still has a great deal to learn in practical politics. He had it in his power to take every issue from the hands of the politicians, and his administration. Instead of doing so he has made an enemy of the prospective senator also, and has laid up for himself no little annoyance and trouble.

AN INCOME TAX.

The prospective deficit in the national treasury has caused a revival of the talk relative to an income tax. It is certainly probable, however, that the tax will be adopted. Theoretically it is an equitable method of making men bear their just proportion of the public burden, but when the attempt is made to put into practical operation it utterly fails to reach the class of people it is designed to. Men upon salaries whose income is fixed and easily ascertainable are obliged to pay in full, but the millions and men with great business interests have no trouble in evading it. In order to give it any force whatever, it must be accompanied by a system of spies and espionage which make it odious to the people and antagonistic to the proceeds of the tax. The attempt to establish a tax of this kind will encounter strong opposition from those who had experience with it during the war, and are familiar with its workings.

CHICAGOANS ARE HARD TO BEAT.

They failed to wheedle Uncle Sam out of $50,000, but coaxed the good old man to give them half that number of voters in the semi-finals of 50 cent pieces. Now they are advertising to sell these queer coins for 51 apiece, thus turning an honest 7 penny in a way that would paint a blush on the cheek of a "cheat-on-Chinese."

San Francisco gets her water from Lake Tahoe, 150 miles distant, and her ability to mix with it from Kentucky. The floor grades are more gravel than when it started on its journey. The steamer Tontonic, which arrived at New York on Wednesday last, had honor of transporting Marvel, the most renowned St. Bernard dog that has yet been produced in England. Marvel is distinguished not only for the immense price that he has won, but also for a dog. He is a deep, rich orange in color, about 18 inches in height, and is a dog and a dog. Thomas Shillcock of Birmingham, Eng., is the owner. Marvel is now on exhibition at the New York St. Bernard kennels.

TO STAR AT THE WORLD'S FAIR. Plans for better Exhibitions in Connection With the Exposition.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Jim Corbett's scheme for the construction of a massive building to hold spring exhibitions and spectacles in a park at the World's Fair is already a failure. E. H. Finley and O. H. Matthews, representing a syndicate of Chicago capitalists and who are the promoters of the scheme are in New York for the purpose of securing Corbett's signature to a contract.

A representative of the syndicate says the building is to be built at a cost of $100,000. Every known improvement will be introduced. The building will be located on Fitzgibbon street between Cornell street and East End avenue. It will be convenient to all rail and water lines. Theatrical and other entertainments will be given there.

The champion believes that the venture will be a profitable one. He will start to perform about May and continue incessantly until September. He expects to realize about $50,000. The building will be known as Corbett's vendible and opera house.

Two Murders Committed in One Night—VICTIMS OF THE "COPPERHEADS." SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 28.—The series of highway robberies which have taken place at Wancher, on the line of the Great Northern, west of Spokane, resulted last night in two murders by the robbers.

A REIGN OF CRIME.

Gamblers, thieves and those who have made that town their headquarters, reaping a rich harvest from railroad construction men who usually visit the town to get their money, and then proceeded to spend it in saloons and gambling houses. Holdups became so frequent that it was unsafe to go on the streets at night, and many citizens were driven the lawless element from the town.

Joseph Cooper and friends were walking from the depot to the hotel after their day's work, and were surprised through a dark place in the street were confronted by two men who commanded them to stop. They were ordered to get out their money, and then proceeded to spend it in saloons and gambling houses. Holdups became so frequent that it was unsafe to go on the streets at night, and many citizens were driven the lawless element from the town.

Cooper lived six hours after receiving the wound, but died of the consequences. There is no clue to the murderers. John McVicker, an old and almost blind man, residing a short distance from Wancher, was also murdered last night. He lived about a week and was supposed to have a large amount of money. The body was found this morning near a well, and was surrounded by a bullet-hole through the body. The house had been ransacked. The people here are indignant and a protective association similar in purpose to a vigilance committee will be organized. A similar organization already exists among railroad men.

The Bother Occupied by a Czar. Many troubles and vexations were caused by a visit which was paid the other day by the czar to the military camp at Lora. The latter place is a village on the Neva, about ten miles from St. Petersburg, and accessible by water or rail. On the occasion of the visit soldiers were placed on the railway. Not far from the city are the ruins of mills, the workmen at which live on the opposite side of the line, going home daily for their meals. These workmen do not go to their work on Saturday morning, but were not allowed to cross the line again the whole day, being obliged to go without their food or buy it in a public house. No traffic was allowed.

Even people who had their own farm lands on the sides of the railway were forbidden to walk across. The trains from Moscow, which live and were sent off all within a quarter of an hour of each other in the evening. The river traffic was also entirely suspended. It can be readily imagined what discomfort such suspension of traffic occasioned, and it is only a Russian official who can see the good in it.—London News.

Candles Burning in a Cemetery. Every one of the several hundred graves in the Cemetery of the Most Holy Redeemer, on East Bridge street, has been decked with flowers and lighted with candles during the past two days. The big congregations of St. Michael's and St. James' Catholic churches, who use the cemetery, have decorated the graves in honor of All Souls' Day. For two days men, women and children have been coming and going some on foot and some in carriages, and a large crowd of lunch with them and spent a whole day with the dead. At nightfall the candles sent up a pale flutter of light from each grave, and the sight of the burying place is a survival of the former custom of celebrating mass and offering prayers for the repose of the souls in purgatory.—Baltimore Sun.

Nov. 28.—There was an appreciable change in the money market, deposits increasing and rates of discount somewhat easier. This course of affairs has been brought about by the payment of a large amount of call loans on Saturday last. The demand for money in the country deposits, one institution, also reported gain of over half a million from this source on Saturday last. The demand for money is still very good, coming principally from the interior. The rate of interest on the loans are made at 6 per cent, although calls are being made at a large percentage were made at 8%.

 large number of her friends last evening.
 Pedro was the leading feature of the entertainment. Refreshments were served after a short programme of instruments and vocal music. An all-present enjoyed a pleasant evening.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION
 Proceedings at the Meeting Last Evening.

Reports from Various Unions and Other Matters of Interest.

The regular meeting of the C. L. U. last night was unusually interesting and many warm discussions were indulged in. E. P. Mills of the Workman forgot he was an officer and during the official roll call proceeded to make a report for the musicians' union, but was cut off by the laughter of the crowd. A communication from the cigarmaker's union relative to forming unions for waiters and hotel and restaurant employes was read and the committee and organization instructed to proceed in the matter.
 New delegates from the Grocery Clerk's union were obligated and given seats.

The Musicians' union reported trade dull; also that they were having trouble with the Polish society. The society agreed to employ only union musicians, but may they they are not. The union requested that a boycott be placed on the society. The request was granted. For's band was also reported incompetent.

The Brewers' union reported trouble in Muskegon; that the union let in bad shaps; has a small membership. The delegates from the union were instructed to make a thorough investigation of the matter during the session of the Michigan Federation of Labor and if possible straighten out the trouble. The Bakers, Cabinet Makers and K. of L. reported everything O. K.; the Holland Furniture workers, the expulsion of the members; the Painters and Decorators, that all their best workmen are leaving the city on account of better wages elsewhere. The Barbers' union reported the shop on North Court avenue being a union shop. Ellsworth street union shop were boycotted and union men were reported as patronizing them.
 The Cabinet Makers and Clear Makers announced dances at Germania hall Dec. 1 and 10 respectively. The bill of the Brandt Brewing company for beer furnished the Union Car Drivers' union was ordered paid.

The following circular was read and ordered published with the proceedings.
 To Affiliated Unions:
 In order to make more perfect arrangements among the unions throughout the state, and to secure as full a representation as possible, the executive committee has decided to postpone the annual convention to Tuesday, the 10th day of January, 1912, when the delegates will meet in the city of Muskegon at the hall of the Trades Association, corner of Pine street and Muskegon avenue at 10 o'clock a. m. Headquarters at the Occidental hotel.

There remains for special preparation next two months the brief period intended, but long enough to enable each affiliated body to select one or more representatives and for such representatives to equip themselves with a concise and comprehensive history for the year of their organization; they represent, whether such history be brilliant and eventful or otherwise. As those will be chosen who are already familiar, or may in a few hours become familiar, with the details of their own organization, the life since the last meeting of the federation, it is the hope of the committee that the duty of making down the necessary record in black and white will not be neglected by a single delegate. What is necessary to do will be made to others, and the occasion of quickening the principles of unionism in all.

In addition to the, the whole world of economists is open to treatment by any man who will call upon him in person or by any means of it. These occasions of comparing notes may accomplish as much as any other means of doing so. food hypothesis of regeneration as by making practical suggestions for improvement.

Again: While the representatives of organized labor are in session at Muskegon, an honorable levy of delegates from the political units of the state will be in session at Lansing to reconsider and amend the terms of the liberty and the means of social justice. Any well considered and eminently rational plan of amelioration for the oppressed will be those framers and reviewers of the law who will call upon him in person or by any means of it. Those who are of those whom we especially represent.
 If "labor measures" have failed heretofore, it is not altogether due to their inevitable. Since men in office, as well out of office, are always glad to receive from Let us not be deluged with long letters, like Jehovah, can command the light by a fiat, or even by a reasonable and reasonable; yet the executive officers of the Michigan Federation of Labor have confidence that the processes of investigation, study and thought have prepared some among our constituency for the valuable things of the Michigan legislature.

Brothers and sisters, let the election of delegates occur without delay, as a special meeting if necessary after which election a report of the same should be once sent to the Secretary, Treasurer, G. W. Duncan, 319 Third street, S. E., Detroit.

UNLOADING SALE!

THIRD WEEK!

As we predicted, we broke the record on sales last week. Never before in the history of the store was there such a week's trade, never before in Grand Rapids were there such crowds of pleased buyers. Our progressiveness in knocking off profits now and unloading when you must buy, instead of waiting, in the old foggy way, till January or February when you've bought your clothes, has caught the town.

But we're not satisfied yet---this week must show still greater results ---prices like these will bring them:

- Men's Kersy Overcoats, velvet collars, flannel lined, worth $12..... $ 6.88
- Men's Storm Overcoats, Frieze and Chinchilla, worth $15..... 10.88
- Men's Blue and Black fine Beaver Overcoats..... 7.50
- Children's Cassimere Cape Overcoats, worth $4..... 2.50

- Men's fine double-breasted Black Chevot Suits, were $15..... $10.92
- Men's Worsted, Cheviot and Cassimere suits, were $12..... 8.99
- Men's all wool Pants, warranted not to rip..... 1.25
- Men's Jersey Overshirts, black and fancy, worth $1.25..... .69

It's Unusual at this Time of the Year to Forego Profits—But We're Doing It.
