Date:	no date
Physical Description:	8.5 Linear Feet 29 boxes
Language of the Material:	English .
Abstract:	Hellenic Horizons was incorporated in 1979 to celebrate Greek heritage in Grand Rapids, Michigan. The group produced an exhibit at the Grand Rapids Public Museum, "Greek-American Family: Continuity through Change", and a booklet, "Grand Rapids Greek Heritage." This collection includes historical images gathered for the projects, as well as project files, oral histories and ephemera. Some material also represents the larger Michigan Greek community. Records from Hellenic Horizons date from the 1960s to 1980s, while the historical material documents the Greek community in Grand Rapids from the 19th and 20th centuries.

Biographical / Historical

The 1890s saw the first Greek family come to the Grand Rapids area. Peter Smirlis was the bootblack who began the influx of Greeks into the Grand Rapids, by having new immigrants sent to this Michigan community straight from Ellis Island for his employ. The community grew slowly, and in 1925 they felt established enough to begin the process of creating a local Greek Orthodox Church. The Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church then became the center of their community and remains so today. Dinners, worship and name day celebrations kept the Greek community close and centered around the Church.

Throughout the years different Greek organizations were created to preserve the Greek culture from total Americanization. One such group, Hellenic Horizons, was created in 1979. The purpose of this group was to give Greeks cultural events to attend and to enlighten non-Greeks to the rich culture that the Greeks have. In 1982 Hellenic Horizons, funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, created an exhibit called "Greek-American Family: Continuity through Change" for the Grand Rapids Public Museum. This exhibit was a collection of the heritage of the Greek community in Grand Rapids. The exhibit ran at the Grand Rapids museum from September 19, 1982 – January 7, 1983, and then traveled to other venues around the nation.

Scope and Contents

Included in this collection are historical church documents from Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, such as meeting minutes and fliers for many different social events.

Documents from the group cover the time period of 1960s to the 1980s, while the historical material documents the Greek community in Grand Rapids and its roots and affiliations from the 19th and 20th centuries. Historical images gathered for these projects are represented through negatives, 4x5 contact prints and also 8x10 prints. Along with this information, one of the largest oral history collections, over 110 hours of tape, was gathered and is a part of this collection. Also, a booklet, "Grand Rapids Greek Heritage" was compiled and edited by Paul N. Chardoul was published on the 60th anniversary of the Grand Rapids Greek Orthodox Community, November 9, 1986. This is a wonderful general source that summarizes what is contained in this collection.

Series III. Images.

Scope and Contents

A management database has been created to document specifics of the images in this collection. To date, some 198 unique images have been documented for the collection. Most of these are copy images, copies of written or typed documents, copies of family photographs, or copies of historical images which represent Grand Rapids historically.

These images have been given a unique number by staff, and the same image number is used for a positive print and for a negative, where found in the collection. Many of the lower number images have been used in two publications found in Box 2 of this collection: Grand Rapids' Greek Heritage (See also a copy at 277-4-.5 Marked Up copy to use as Image index) and 50th Anniversary Holy Trinity, Greek Orthodox church, 1926-1976.

It is also possible that these same images or other images in this collection may have been used in other publications found in this collection, or found elsewhere. These publications provide another positive view and additional information. They can serve as indexes to the images, but using the image number given near the image, to find the contact print or negative, for example.

Positive prints of images exist primarily as 4x5 contact prints. Some 8x10 photographic prints for the same images exist in some cases. In some cases, only 8x10 prints may be found. Not all positive prints have a copy negative in the collection. Most copy negatives are 4x5, located in Box 8. A few 35 mm, negatives, and at least one 8x10 negative, are also found in the collection.

Images of Gerald Ford with members of the Greek community can be found in Coll. 326, Colorama Studio Collection.
